SPANISH RIOT DEATHS

Twelve Victims In Three Days

Malaga, June 12. The situation consequent upon the General Strike and the conflict between the Socialists and Communists is becoming hourly more serious.

The chief of the Municipal Police was fired on and killed here to-day while out walking. One striker was killed and several seriously injured in a clash between rival organizations. Two children were accidentally shot dead.

The death toll in the past three days of violence is now twelve. Members of the National Federation of Labour have called off the general strike but the General Union workers have refused to return to their plants.

The outlook is ominous and gloomy. No newspapers have been published for the last few days.

Bomb Thrown At Train

Jerusalem, June 12. Four Jews were seriously injured and twelve Jews and one Arab slightly wounded, when a bomb was thrown at a passenger train on the Haifa-Lydda Railway line to-day.

The man who seriously wounded Assistant Superintendent of Police Alan Gilchrist, and who was wounded in turn by the British constable who accompanied the police official, has died.

The Assistant Superintendent of Police was wounded when two companions who emerged from a hiding-place near the Rockefeller Museum, emptied their automatic pistols at the police.

Police dogs are now on the trail of the other assailant.

It is believed the Assistant Superintendent incurred the Arabs' displeasure owing to his firmness in dealing with Arab rioters.

REPUBLICANS' CHOICE

Colonel Knox For Vice-President

NATION-WIDE BOOST

Cleveland, June 12.

Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, and one of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's most bitter critics, won the Republican Party's nomination for the vice-presidency of the United States at the national party convention here to-night.

Yesterday the convention unanimously elected Governor Alfred Landon, of Kansas, as its candidate for the presidency. To-night the almost hysterical delegates were chanting hoarsely:

"Off the rocks with Landon and Knox." This is their battle-cry.

The Republican Convention of 1,003 delegates, voted unanimously for Colonel Frank Knox and nominated him for the vice-presidency fight.

The name of William Randolph Hearst, famous publisher, was linked with both successful candidates, Governor Alfred Landon, for President, and Colonel Knox. It was a nation-wide boost in the Hearst press that converted Landon from an almost unknown state politician into a national figure, while Colonel Knox has acquired country-wide contacts as circulation manager of the Hearst chain.

DEFEATED SENATOR

As weary convention delegates scattered to their homes to-day the question on all lips was: "What will Borah do?" Senator William Borah, of Utah, defeated candidate for the nomination for President, quitted the convention city last night. The possibility of his bolting from the party and taking with him a strong following, was increased by a telegram he sent to Governor Landon, in which he said he interpreted the nominee's sound money plank in the party platform as meaning "currency expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold."

On reaching Washington, Senator Borah declined to say whether he would support Governor Landon, and declared he was not clear as to Governor Landon's meaning in his reference to gold.

"If it means he is for a gold standard, I am wholly in disagreement," he said.

He added that he had no objection to the selection of Colonel Knox as vice-presidential candidate.

MORE HONOURS FOR BADOGLIO

Rome, June 12.

After the long series of honours heaped on Marshal Badoglio, National Hero, Conqueror of Abyssinia, Duke of Addis Ababa, the last and greatest was conferred on Friday, when Badoglio was formally received into the Fascist Party as a reward for having "as commander of the Italian troops in East Africa won five great victories that ended in the collapse of the Abyssinian Empire to the Glory of the Fatherland." The Marshal was handed the membership card bearing the date of the capture of Addis Ababa.

Minister Acts As Mediator

Paris, June 12.

A most important individual strike settlement has been reached this evening, employers and employees of the Metallurgical industry signing a collective contract before the Minister of the Interior, M. Salengro, who acted as mediator in a dispute involving many thousands of workers, and which had closed down the entire vital industry.

At Le Havre the threatened strike of dock workers has been called off, following a settlement in which the men will receive a twelve per cent. increase in pay.

In Lille 35 factories have reopened and at Roubaix 38 have resumed work.

However, 10,000 men are still out at Valenciennes.

WORK BILL PASSED

Paris, June 12.

After a day-long debate, the Chamber of Deputies passed the 40-hour week work bill by 385 to 175 to-day. It will now be presented to the Senate.

There is every indication that the great engineering strike, which was the most serious in the recent labour crisis, will be ended tomorrow.

Waiters and other employees of Paris restaurants and cafes have resumed work, but their fellow-workers are still striking in Marseilles.

BELGIAN CABINET

Brussels, June 12.

After King Leopold has given audience to the ex-Premier van Zeeland on Friday for over two hours, it was announced that the latter would make one more attempt to form a Government of National Unity. It is believed that van Zeeland ultimately consented to do this, because the King urged that the interests of the country demanded the formation of the new Government without any delay, especially in view of the disquieting way the strike movement was spreading.

Van Zeeland is expected to announce the formation of the Cabinet on Saturday. It is taken for granted that the Premier-elect will not negotiate any further with the parties as such.

PRESENT-DAY SLAVERY

SIR JOHN SIMON'S VIEWS

London, May 27.

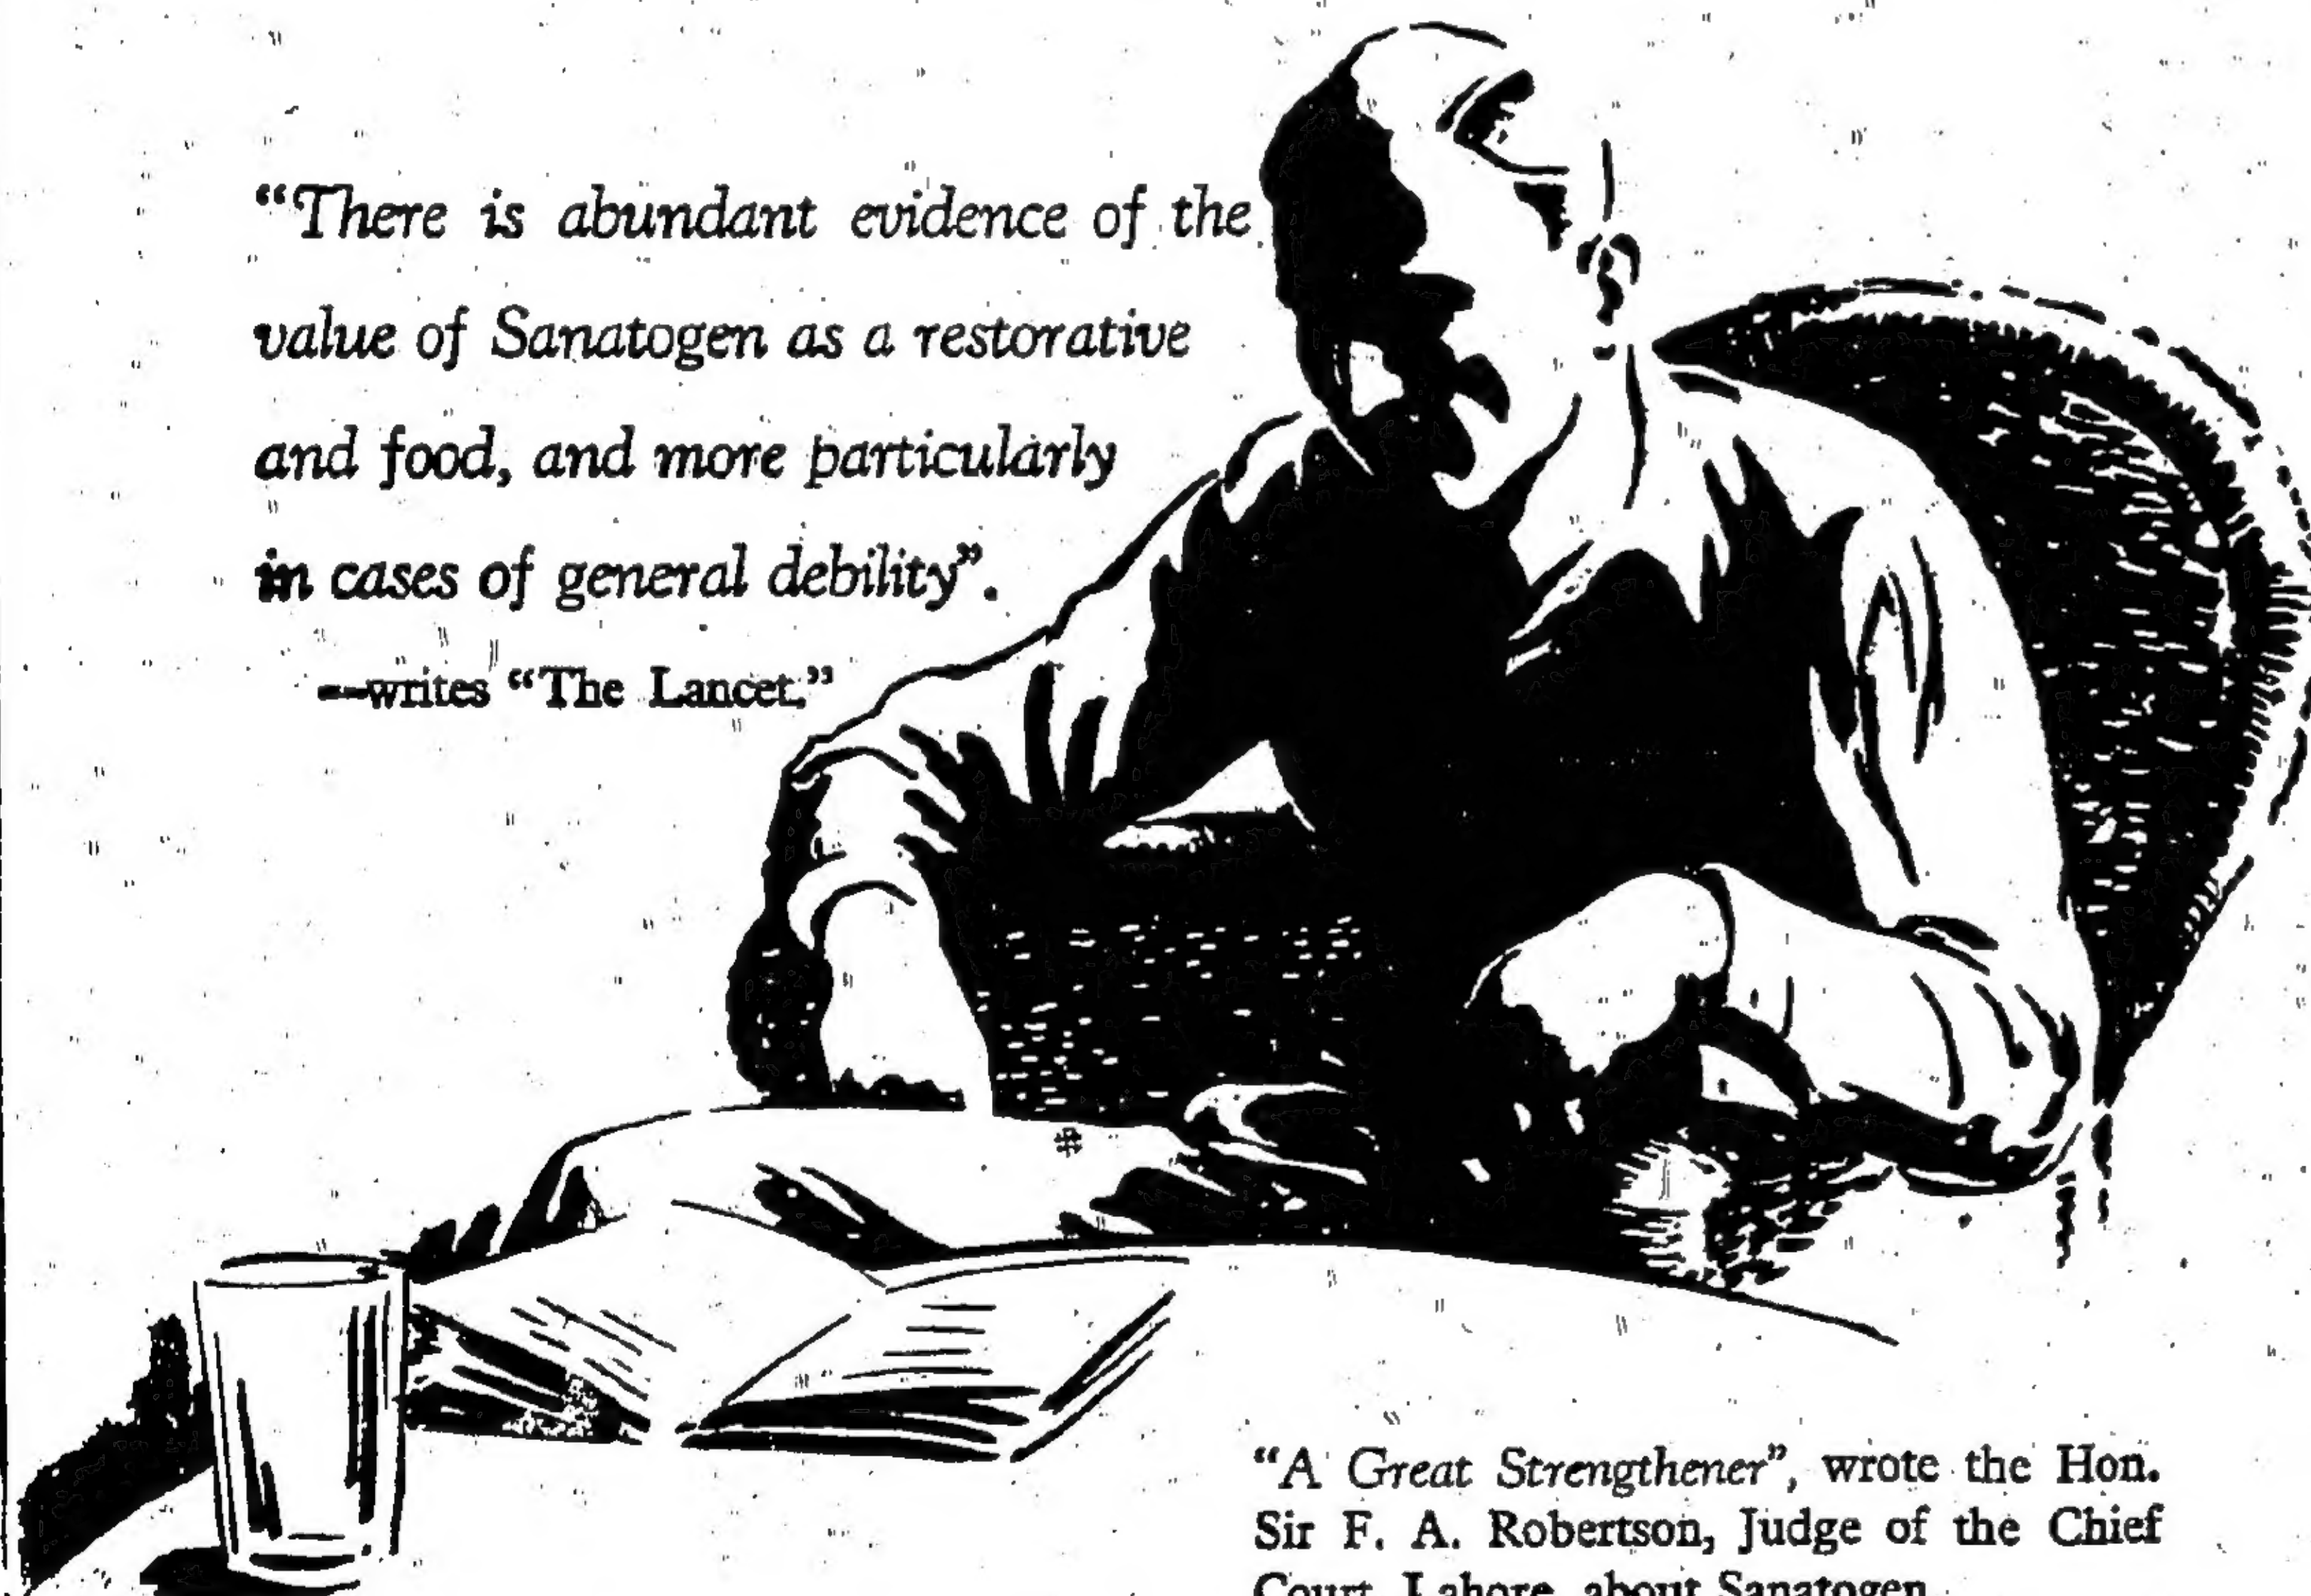

A meeting in support of the British and America Anti-Slavery League and hosts in Paris and of Lady Simon's anti-slavery campaign was held yesterday, by permission of Sir Philip Sassoon, at 45, Park Lane. A message was read from Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, Patron of the homes, in which she said that their work was never more needed than at present. The Rev. John E. James gave an address on the social and religious activities of the homes. He said that they were the pioneer society for this sort of work on the Continent and they were still one of the largest philanthropic institutions there. Their work had largely to depend on voluntary subscriptions, and their income was nearly halved owing to loss on exchange. Lady Simon was prevented by illness from speaking on "Present-day Slavery" and Sir John Simon attended in her place. He recounted the work that has been done in the liberation of slaves in Sierra Leone, the highlands of Burma, Nepal, and elsewhere.

Conquer that Weakness!

You can—with SANATOGEN

"There is abundant evidence of the value of Sanatogen as a restorative and food, and more particularly in cases of general debility".

—writes "The Lancet."

"A Great Strengthening", wrote the Hon. Sir F. A. Robertson, Judge of the Chief Court, Lahore, about Sanatogen.

Remember that these letters—and thousands similar—were written by people who, before the use of Sanatogen, were just as sceptical as you may be of its tonic effects. But they decided to try Sanatogen and they got back their health and vigour.

"Sanatogen"—as a well-known London physician puts it—"goes straight to the core of well-being, namely, the cells—and builds these up into a permanent and solid fabric of health."

Sanatogen will build up your Health lastingly. Over 25,000 physicians support this claim with their written commendation.

"Sanatogen gives a distinct restorative effect", writes Sir Luke White.

"My nurses and myself were very much struck with my rapid improvement with Sanatogen", writes the wife of a well-known doctor, Mrs. C. A. M. Phillips.

"A Wonder-worker" are the words in which Mr. Coulson Kernahan, the well-known author, describes Sanatogen.

SANATOGEN will always do you good and cannot possibly do harm.

ADVENTURES OF A SCULPTOR

London, May 16.
Sir John Lavery's first engagement on his return from America will be on Monday, when he will open the first sculpture exhibition in London of a young member of a talented family.

The exhibitor, Mr. Lionel Leslie, brother of Mr. Shane Leslie, cousin of Mr. Winston Churchill and of Mrs. Clare Sheridan, also a sculptor.

Mr. Leslie has had an adventurous career. During the war, while only 16, he ran away from his home in Ireland and tried to join the Army. After the war he was admitted and served for five years in India and Burma.

He used to spend his leave exploring, on foot, in parts of China where no European had been. Leaving the Army, he joined the first Watkins expedition to Labrador.

He took up sculpture only five years ago. Many of his models are wild animals, which he had the opportunity to study in the Burmese jungle.

DR. NORWOOD'S FAREWELL SERMON

London, May 18.
Dr. F. W. Norwood preached his farewell sermon to a crowded congregation at the City Temple, London, yesterday. His departure from the City Temple coincided yesterday with the sixty-second anniversary of the opening of the church for public worship and the 29th anniversary of the foundation of the church itself. He was appointed its minister in 1919. He leaves to work under the National Free Church Council in a missionary campaign throughout the country preaching to masses of people.

"How on earth it ever happened that all my life I have been speaking to vast crowds of people is a mystery to me," he said during his sermon. "I do not like crowds. I do not want crowds. I am always outraged by crowds. The longer I live the more religion seems to me to be a thing almost too holy for public speech. If my life works out as I see it I shall finish in a cottage with half an acre and a cow."

which Mrs. Mollison is president, and the British Federation of Business and Professional Women. Miss Caroline Haslett, hon. secretary of the Women's Engineering Society, and Lady Moll, received Mrs. Mollison at the entrance of St. Stephen's Hall. Women M.P.s associated with the reception included Lady Astor, Miss Irene Ward, Miss Megan Lloyd George, Mrs. Tate, Miss Thelma Cazalet, and Miss Eleanor Rathbone.

MAIL NEWS FROM HOME

Gossip Of The Week

London, May 29.

I hear that an important change is likely to be made in the organisation of London Territorial Infantry units, writes a correspondent.

This is the abolition of the London Regiment and the affiliation of its various battalions to those regiments of the Regular Army of which they have hitherto—in official parlance—formed part of the corps.

At present the Artists Rifles are the 28th London Regiment. If the reorganisation scheme is carried through the "Artists" will become one of the Rifle Brigade battalions, and will appear as such in the Army List.

In the same way the London Scottish, now the 14th London Regt., will be one of the battalions of the Gordon Highlanders.

The London Irish Rifles—another famous battalion of the London Regt.—will become a battalion of the Royal Ulster Rifles.

MR. DUFF COOPER'S SILENCE

While many battalions of the London Regt. welcome this closer connection with regiments of the Regular Army, it is not so congenial, I believe, to the crack Territorial regiments I have mentioned.

Mr. Duff Cooper evidently anticipates that his project will cause a flutter in these martial dovecotes. When he spoke last week at the London Division dinner, he made no reference to it.

The London Regt. was the creation of Lord Haldane, the father of the Territorial Army. During the war it was found difficult to provide it with the necessary reinforcements.

This lesson is the reason for the anticipated reorganisation.

RATIONING QUESTIONS

Only eight M.P.s would be affected if the Prime Minister agreed to adopt the plan for rationing questions which Capt. Gunston will put forward to-day.

Capt. Gunston wants to see M.P.s limited to six questions a week. So far this session Mr. Harry Day has more than doubled the proposed allowance.

The limit is also exceeded most weeks by Mr. Thurtle, Mr. Mander, Mr. Shinwell, Mr. Will Thorne, Mr. Garro-Jones and Mr. Gallacher. Mr. H. G. Williams is the only Government supporter in danger of having his questions curtailed.

50 PER CENT. CUT?

As the pressure on Parliamentary time has become more severe and M.P.s have shown increasing interest in affairs, their right to ask questions has had to be restricted.

At the beginning of the century they could have as many questions as they liked on the paper. The number has been successively reduced to eight, four and three per member per day.

As questions are asked on four days a week, they present allowance amounts to 12 a week, and Capt. Gunston therefore proposes a 50 p.c. cut.

While it is true that on a number of days more questions than can be answered in the hour appear on the paper, the majority of Members would prefer a reform of the present method of dividing questions into "oral" and "non-oral."

Too many requests for statistical and routine information are put as oral questions.

STARHEMBERG SITTING PRETTY

Austrian observers believe that the Nazi attack on Prince Starhemberg's castle at Wachstein will strengthen the Prince's hands. It demonstrates, they say, Dr. Schuschnigg's difficulty, to which I drew attention recently—his inability to keep the Nazis in check without the full co-operation of the Heimwehr.

Prince Starhemberg himself is emulating Erser Fox and "lyin' low and sayin' auffs."

I understand, however, that when Dr. Schuschnigg reprimanded Baron Baar-Barenfels and Dr. Draxler, his Heimwehr Ministers, for their deliberate affront in welcoming Prince Starhemberg on his return from Rome, the Chancellor received a defiant reply. Curiously enough, it is said to have been the two Heimwehr members of the Cabinet who urged the Prince to retrieve his position by force.

CARDINAL AND CHIEF RABBI

Dr. Schuschnigg, in his difficulties, is, I believe, once more in touch with the Archduke Otto. A restoration would at any rate rally the more devout Catholic Heimwehrmen to the Government.

Cardinal Innitzer, the Cardinal Archbishop of Vienna, maintains close relations with Steenockerzeel and would favour a restoration at a convenient moment.

It would, however, be opposed by Prince Starhemberg, whose relations with the former Imperial court are bad at the moment.

My recent note on the Jewish support of the governing powers in Austria as against the Nazis can be amplified. Dr. Schuschnigg has many Jewish friends, including Franz Werfel, the best-selling novelist.

Cardinal Innitzer is a great personal friend of Dr. Bach, the Chief Rabbi of Vienna, and Prince Starhemberg's most important supporter. Herr Fritz Mandl, the armaments manufacturer, is also a Jew.

TO BE SHOWN—NOT FLOWN

The King and Queen Mary, with the other members of the Royal family, will visit the Queen Mary, to-day. They have the place of honour in the liner—the top of the main staircase.

The marble bas-relief by Lady Kennel—better known as Lady Hilton Young—is a special favourite of Queen Mary.

Queen Mary's own flag was a recent gift from her Majesty. It is the only flag on board which is to be shown—not flown.

THE BEECHAM LINE

The new vessel, in which Isolda made her second voyage at Covent Garden last night, is, I believe, the work of Sir Thomas Beecham.

His versatile genius has obviously been hampered by having to use the hull of the old vessel.

In consequence he has not been able to give Isolda any better accommodation than before. Her "cabin" is still on the main—and only—deck. The Queen's privacy is secured by the same curtain which has always shielded her from the crew on the fo'c'sle.

On the other hand, Sir Thomas has increased the ship's speed. A large sail now spreads itself to the favouring breeze. I was amused to notice that no ripple of the wind which fills this throughout the act reaches the deck. The curtain of Isolda's quarters hung in a dead calm.

FAMILY CONCERN

Sir Hubert Murray, the Governor of Papua, who has just come home on leave, has held his post for a longer period than any other Governor in the British Empire. He was appointed in 1906.

The Papuan Governorship is not over well paid. Sir Hubert, who is the elder brother of Prof. Gilbert Murray, receives £1,800.

Economy has, however, been the keynote of his administration. His nephew, Mr. H. L. Murray, combines the posts of Government Secretary, A.D.C., and Master of the Governor's small yacht. Without this he could not visit the thin strip of civilised coast which surrounds the island. Mr. Murray's predecessor was Sir Hubert Murray's son-in-law.

HOMME ROTI AU SAGOU

Sir Hubert Murray is the leading authority on cannibalism in Papua. The custom is on the decline, but as a great part of the territory is still unexplored, the influence of the Government can be only slowly extended.

The Papuan cannibal likes his victim roasted with sago—though some humanitarian (if that is the cannibalistic opposite of vegetarian) gourmets cling to boiling. It is a point of cannibal etiquette, Sir Hubert Murray maintains that you do not eat your own victim. So presumably the successful warrior who cannot engineer a "swop" goes without his supper.

SECTARIAN STAMPS

"Should a reader receive a letter bearing the stamp recently illustrated, he or she can be pretty certain that it comes from a Dutch Roman Catholic."

Every summer, Holland, in common with other Continental countries, issues stamps with a surcharge—the proceeds of the surcharge being devoted to charities.

The stamp, which is one of a series just issued, shows Monsignor Hjam Schaeppman, an eminent Dutch Roman Catholic leader of the last century. The charge for it is 6cts plus 4.

This has caused a religio-philatelic battle. The Protestants are annoyed that the leading Protestant illustrated in the series is priced only at 6cts plus 3.

Monsignor Schaeppman is therefore being boycotted by them. Stout Lutherans wishing to frank a letter with 6cts buy two 3-cent stamps instead.

MOSES, G.O.C.

The legal battle waged by the South Wales Borderers to obtain the removal of the Colours of the 24th Foot, as they were formerly known, from Warwick to Brecon Cathedral, has excited the interest of many ex-Service men.

From time immemorial flags have been used as rallying points for warriors.

The Book of Numbers relates that when Moses assembled his followers in the wilderness of Sinai they were ordered to pitch their tents "every man by his own camp, and every man by his own standard."

Each of the tribes had its own standard. It can be said, therefore, with some truth that the children of Israel were the first to carry regimental colours.

ENGLISH GIRL
MARRIES PRINCE
IN VIENNASON OF MURDERED
ARCHDUKE

Vienna, May 24.
Miss Maria Theresa Wood, a 25-year-old English girl, was married in Vienna to-day to Prince Ernst von Hohenberg, second son of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, heir-presumptive to the Austrian throne, whose assassination at Sarajevo led to the world war.
The bridegroom is 31.
The bride's father is Captain George Jervis Wood, who before the war was British Military Attache in Vienna.
The engagement of the couple was announced in Vienna at the beginning of April.
The Arch-duchess Adelaide, eldest sister of Otto von Hapsburg, attended the ceremony in St. Charles Church, thus making her first public appearance in Vienna since her arrival from Steenocketzeel (Belgium) a few days ago, says Reuter.

The other guests included the Archduchesses Maria Theresa of Hapsburg, about 20 princes and princesses, and over 150 of the Austrian and Hungarian nobility.
The ceremony was performed by Mgr. Stiel, an old friend of the Hohenberg family.
The bride wore no jewels, but as a wedding gift from the Prince she is receiving magnificent jewels which belonged to his mother, the Duchess von Hohenberg, who was murdered beside her husband, says Exchange.
The jewels include a tiara of diamonds and pearls, a set of sapphire ear-rings, three sapphire and diamond brooches and a sapphire bracelet.
In the procession everyone walked according to their social eminence, rank and title. The seating for the wedding banquet at a hotel was also carefully planned and was, in fact, changed twelve times before being finally settled.
The couple will spend their honeymoon mooring in Italy.

NEW ERA IN U.S.A.

"Everyone Is More Optimistic."

London, May 27.

Mr. M. B. U. Dewar, a vice-president of the Federation of British Industries, who returned to London yesterday after a month's tour of the United States and Canada, said that Britain's programme of rearmament was not regarded by Americans as being competitive with the United States.

"The people feel that the stronger Britain is on land and in the air, the greater chance there is of peace in Europe," he said "But they also feel that the stronger we are at sea, the better chance there is of peace in the Far East. That is a very vital matter for the United States."

Mr. Dewar visited America just under two years ago. The position had entirely changed since then, he added.
"The bread queues have gone, the army of hawkers has gone, tens of thousands of new cars are going on the road, and everyone is brighter and more optimistic."

HONEYMOON IN ITALY

Duke Max von Hohenberg, who is the bridegroom's elder brother, escorted the bride's mother. Captain Wood escorted the Duchess of Hohenberg.

The ceremony was performed by Mgr. Stiel, an old friend of the Hohenberg family.
The bride wore no jewels, but as a wedding gift from the Prince she is receiving magnificent jewels which belonged to his mother, the Duchess von Hohenberg, who was murdered beside her husband, says Exchange.

QUINTUPLETS
INSURANCEFILM COMPANY'S POLICY

London, May 28.

The Dieudonné quintuplets, aged one year and 11 months, have been insured at Lloyd's for £50,000. The policy is worded to the effect that a total loss of the full amount insured shall be paid if one or more of the children dies during the next 12 months at their home at Callender, Ontario.

The insurance is understood to have been taken out by an American film corporation which has obtained rights for filming the children.

It is understood that a large part of the insurance was placed at £2 10s. but the market became "full" and to finish the order rates up to £7 10s per cent. were paid.

MUTINYWoman Who Saw Father
Write Letter In Blood
Dies At 93

London, May 28.

Mrs. Emma Osborne, Kimberley Road, Gillingham, Kent, had no more thrilling experience in all her 93 years than she had as a survivor of the Indian Mutiny.

An Indian-born daughter of Captain Wilkinson, who died during the Mutiny, she was one of a party of refugees who were driven underground to await relief by the Gordon Highlanders. She once saw her father write a letter home in blood taken from his arm. When she was 17 she was brought to England by missionaries and given into the care of her grandfather.

No more will she tell of her experience. They buried her at Woodlands Cemetery, Gillingham, yesterday.

THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII

Bringing to the screen a powerful story staged against a spectacular background, RKO Radio's "The Last Days of Pompeii" opened last night at the Star Theatre.

No effort was spared by Merian C. Cooper, producer, in the staging. The arena sequences show vividly the glory and savagery of the original Roman "games." The scenes of destruction—earthquakes toppling a city to ruins, the blazing fires, the fear-maddened mobs—are among the most memorable ever filmed.

Ernest B. Schoedsack directed with sensitiveness and understanding. The film is a personal triumph for Preston Foster in the difficult leading role. His sympathetic portrayal of a man determined at any cost to win wealth and power is one of the finest in this young actor's career.

Dorothy Wilson is excellent as the tragic young slave girl. Basil Rathbone contributes a memorable performance as Pontius Pilate, and Alan Hale, as a rough-and-ready ex-convict, adds much to the colour and humour of the film. John Wood, a newcomer from the English screen, proves himself capable in a sensitive role, and small David Holt is appealing. Louis Calhern as a brutal Roman official, Wyllie Birch as a slave, and Gloria Shea contribute excellent performances.

The story is that of Marcus, a young blacksmith whose poverty costs him the lives of wife and child. Deciding that wealth shall be his goal, he successively becomes a gladiator, deals in slaves, and enters into many reckless deals. At the end of twenty years, a head of the arena, arranging bloody spectacles for the populace, his only unsuppressed human instinct is his love and ambition for his adopted son. The climax of the picture is his realization that his very wealth and position must cost him the life of this boy. His

MAGNIFICENT OBSESSION

AT THE KING'S

"Magnificent Obsession," a psychological study, now on the King's Theatre screen, sustains interest throughout, in the main by reason of the excellent direction of John M. Stahl, the sympathetic performance of Miss Irene Dunne, and the virile study by Robert Taylor. (Charles Butterworth displays his usual aptitude at comedy, without which relief the film would have been unbearably "heavy." It easily, however, might have been shortened by the elimination in the earlier portions of the laudatory attributes of Dr. Hudson, a public benefactor, who had died before the narration of events. Full marks go to the entire cast, which was carefully selected for contributing parts.)

The story concerns a wastrel, who learns his lesson through love for the doctor's widow, becomes an eminent brain surgeon, and eventually saves the life of his beloved. Excellent drama that it is, the film is recommended to those who have tired of the frivolous lighter romances and seek something more solid for a change.

SPECIAL AGENT

Another phase of the U.S. Government's efforts to rid the nation of its arch criminals, is show for the first time on the screen in the Cosmopolitan production "Special Agent," a Warner Bros picture which opens to-day at the Queen's Theatre, with Bette Davis and George Brent in the featured roles.

"Special Agent" is a powerful drama with a glowing romance based on the daring exploits and thrilling adventures of the undercover men of the Treasury Department.

These sleuths relentlessly follow the trail of gamblers, extortionists and racketeers of every sort, until they get their men and land them behind the bars of federal prisons for violation of the income tax. In "Special Agent" the finer workings of these operatives are revealed.

Bette Davis has the role of personal secretary to the ruthless head of a powerful band of racketeers. She gets her job without realizing what it is, but after learning the secrets of the gang, she can not step out because she will immediately be put on the spot.

She is in love with George Brent, a reporter, who is determined to bring the criminals to justice and at the same time save Bette from assassination.

Ricardo Cortez is the shrewd, polished dictator of the powerful band of crooks, a ruthless killer, against whom it seems impossible to get evidence until the daring young reporter uncovers it.

The cast includes Robert Strang, Jack La Rue, J. Carroll Nash, Joseph Sauer, Henry O'Neill, Joseph Crehan, Robert, and Paul Guilfoyle.

struggle with himself, staged against the background of a city rocking to ruins, provides a gripping conclusion for the picture.

RAMESES II. BECOMES A FILM STAR

THE CINEMA INVADES THE BRITISH MUSEUM FOR FIRST TIME

(By IAN COSTER)

London, May 28. Light more brilliant than an Egyptian dawn struck the features of Ramses II. to-day, magnifying the timeless serenity of his brow, blackly shadowing his cheek. Clouds of pale blue smoke rose and drifted before him.

And a voice said. He looks O.K. to me.

Ramses II., King of Egypt, became a film star this morning. A film unit of the Strand Film Company penetrated the British Museum at 8 a.m., thereby making history. The light was from 2000-watt lamps, and the pale blue smoke was not intentional incense, but merely the new paint of the lamps burning.

The smell of the paint set off a sniffing as far away as the reading-room, and messengers were sent hot-foot to see that the place was not endangered.

Ramses, the hammer of the Hittites, has had to more than 3000 years to get on the films. He had 100 sons and 59 daughters, but there is no intention of making a picture of his private life. His eminently photogenic features are being incorporated in a film called "Preface to Life," which will deal with the history of books and writing from hieroglyphics and cuneiform down to Maugham and Masfield.

Both of these authors will appear in the picture.

When the film unit arrived with cameras, tripods, lights and other apparatus, the Museum, its counters covered up as if it were a department store, was having its morning clean-up. A little man stopped polishing the headless nymphs of the Nereid room, and said, "Are any film stars coming?"

"CURSE" PROBLEM

And another paused with its feather duster poised over Persephone and Demeter, as the film makers took charge of the near-by Assyrian gallery, uttering the place with insulated wire.

"Have you thought that there might be a curse on filming here?" I asked the producer, Paul Rotha. "It would be pretty bad if the unit went down with plague to-morrow," he said, "because we've got to shoot the reading-room and the habitues."

"But we're starting the picture with a quotation from the Book of the Dead, 'Homage to thee who art Ra in thy rising and Atum in thy setting.' That ought to stave off any ill effects."

FORGOTTEN FACES

Herbert Marshall is the star of Paramount's "Forgotten Faces" which is due shortly at the Queen's Theatre. In the supporting cast are Gertrude Michael, James Burke, Robert Cummings and Jane Rhodes. The film is a story of an all-consuming love.

Directed by E.A. Dupont, the story revolves around a gambling house operator, and the woman he marries. When he finds she is faithless he commits a murder and is sent to prison. Through a friendly police sergeant, his daughter is given to a well-to-do family for adoption, and never knows who her real parents are.

Years later, the prisoner learns that his daughter now grown, is to be married and that his wife intends to blackmail her. Securing a parole through the efforts of the policeman, he arranges to change places with the butler in his daughter's home. Development of the scheme whereby he frustrates his wife's efforts brings the film to a breath-taking climax.

MR. THOMAS SAYS "GOOD-BYE"

London, May 28.

Mr. J. H. Thomas is bravely facing his ordeal, for whatever the findings of the Budget Tribunal it is no easy matter in all the circumstances of the case to go round Whitehall and say good-bye. Mr.

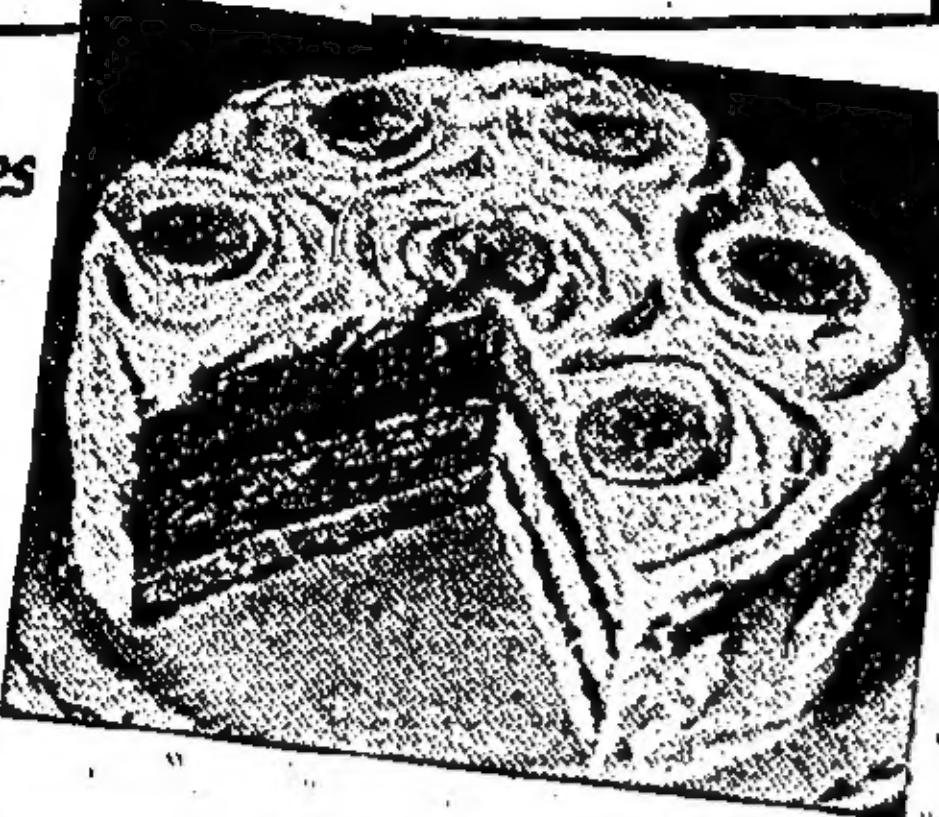

Thomas has always had a vivid sense of life and carried a spirit of camaraderie with him wherever he went. Among the Whitehall staffs with whom he had worked there was no more popular Minister. They found him always high spirited and intensely human, always prepared to approach the individual problem as well as the political from the gentle angle of compromise.

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."
(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach trouble is caused by acidity, and the reason why
'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an end of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

WOMEN AFRAID OF BEGGAR

YOUNG CHINESE IS SENT TO GAOL

"European women are terrified of this man," declared Acting Sub-Inspector Madgwick at the Central Court on Saturday when he prosecuted Hsiong Lai, 18, of Tientsin, for begging.

Mr. Madgwick said Hsiong had been a persistent beggar at Bay View Mansions and many complaints had been made about him. Several attempts had been made to apprehend him but they had been unsuccessful until Friday.

Hsiong had told the police that he had come from Tientsin on account of the cold weather but had done no work since his arrival. Apparently he had stowed away on a ship, said Mr. Madgwick.

Mr. Schofield imposed a fine of $50, in default a month's imprisonment, and ordered his deportation.

HIRED FURNITURE SOLD

RETURN ORDERED

Raymond Fuller, 29, unemployed stated to be from Manila, and residing at No. 22 Nga Tsin Loong Road, appeared on remand before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday charged with theft of several pieces of furniture from the Cheong Hing Furniture Shop, No. 318 Nathan Road, on diverse dates from January 1 this year till June 4.

Among the articles of furniture alleged to have been stolen were, one sideboard, one wardrobe, one washstand, a dining table, four chairs, a sofa, a dressing table, a bed and two easy chairs, valued at $223.

Detective Inspector A. H. Elston appeared for the prosecution. An additional charge relating to a breach of the registration of Persons Ordinance for failure to report within a week of a change of address on May 24, was levied against the accused.

A fine of $50 or one month's imprisonment was imposed, while a conviction was registered for a breach of registration.

The furniture valued at $220 bought from accused by two men, for $38 and $5 respectively were ordered to be returned to the Cheong Hing Furniture Shop without compensation.

SIKH POLICEMEN IN FIGHT

FISTS AND FEET
USED

A fight between three Sikh policemen in Fleming Road Wanchai on Friday led to the appearance of Constables Bahadar Singh, 26, and Harbus Singh, 24, before Mr. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday.

They were charged with having assaulted Constable Bujjat Singh and misconducted themselves as police officers.

Inspector Logan said Bujjat Singh was in hospital and would not be discharged for two or three days. Fists and feet had been used in the assault.

Bahadar Singh denied the assault and Harbus Singh said that Bujjat Singh had struck the first blow.

A week's remand was granted.

BAG-SNATCHER CAUGHT

For snatching a handbag from a woman outside the Po Hing Theatre on Friday, Mo Wing, 18, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday. The offence took place in a crowd outside the theatre. The thief was chased and caught and $3 in the bag was recovered.

FILIPINOS AGAIN!

A stowaway from Manila appeared before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday and was sentenced to eight days' imprisonment. The prosecuting officer said that the accused, Luis Drin, 21, unemployed mechanic of Papege, P. I., was discovered on board the s.s. President Hoover one day out at sea. The Hoover left Manila last Wednesday. An additional eight days was imposed on Drin by the Magistrate, for entering the Colony without a passport.

AMMUNITION WITHOUT LICENCE

CHINESE SOLDIER
DISCHARGED

Dressed in light grey uniform, Chan Kwong Hon, 37, described as a sergeant major of the Canton Army, pleaded guilty before Mr. E. Himsforth on Saturday to possession of six rounds of ammunition and two empty cartridge cases without licence, and was bound over in the sum of $20 for one year.

Sergeant Hutchinson, of the Water Police said that the police did not wish to press the case.

The ammunition was found on board the S.S. So Chow, and accused claimed ownership. This vessel subsequently left the colony, but the prosecuting officer intimated that arrangements had been made for accused to continue his passage in another of the company's vessels.

The police were "prepared to accept accused's plea, that he was unaware a licence was necessary."

The ammunition and cases were ordered to be confiscated.

MILITARY TRESPASSER

For trespassing on Friday on military property near Sandilands Hut, Pung Cheung, 21, unemployed, was bound over in a $20 bond for a year, by Mr. Schofield at the Central Court on Saturday.

Lance Corporal Wright of the Military Police said he saw Pung on a seat and when questioned said he was from the Dairy Farm. He had no pass however and later admitted that he was not a Dairy Farm employee.

Pung told the Magistrate that he had arranged to meet a friend near the hut.

LONG ARM OF THE LAW

Gets Offender After Many Months

FRAUDULENT CHOP

The story of an old fraud and the unexpected arrest of the offender was told at the Central Court on Saturday when Anthony Ng, 33, unemployed, appeared on remand.

Ng was charged before Mr. S. F. Balfour with obtaining $400 by a forged chop.

Det. Sgt. Guild said Ng was formerly employed as assistant book-keeper in the Royal Engineer store and was also assistant treasurer of the Area Sports. On October 18, 1931, he was given a cheque for the Yee Hop Scaffolding Company for work done on the Sookinoo stands.

Ng, it was alleged, went to Jervois Street and had a chop made. He then asked that the cheque be made open, instead of crossed, chopped the cheque and received with the forged chop and then absconded in January 1935.

On June 10, said Det. Sgt. Guild, Q.M.S. Giles recognised Ng in the City Hall Library and arrested him.

Ng told the police that when he stole the money his wife had just died leaving him with six children. They were now living with his parents in straitened circumstances.

Six months imprisonment was imposed.

HONOLULU EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Mr. William Kay To Represent H.K.

LEAVES THIS WEEK

Mr. William Kay, headmaster of King's College, is to represent Hongkong at the Education Conference of Pacific countries in Honolulu to be held from June 30 to August 7.

Mr. Kay will read a paper on "Higher Education in Hong Kong." The purpose of the Conference is to offer to a selected group of administrators, educators and scholars from the different Pacific countries, the opportunity to study and discuss the racial, cultural and educational problems which have arisen as a result of the modern contact of people, and to secure an interchange of experience as to how such problems are being dealt with.

The gathering will be held in conjunction with the annual six weeks' Summer Session of the University of Hawaii.

The membership of the Conference will consist of directors of education, school principals and other leaders in both government and mission work, social scientists, social workers, and other vitally interested people. Representatives are expected from Australia, Canada, China, Great Britain, Japan, New Zealand and America, as well as from American, British, Dutch and French dependencies in the Pacific.

Mr. Kay will leave the Colony next Wednesday by the Matsuyama Maru. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Kay and child, who however, will leave at Yokohama and will proceed to Karuzawa, where Mr. Kay will join them on his return from Honolulu in about the middle of August.

CHINA LIGHTS PLANT

Big Extension Is Contemplated

ENGLISH ORDERS

Orders for a turbo-alternator of 12,500 K.W. to be supplied by Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Export Co., Ltd., of Manchester, and a boiler of 120,000 lbs. capacity to be supplied by International Combustion, Ltd., of Derby, have just been placed by the China Light and Power Co.

This new plant, which will bring the total capacity of the Kowloon Power Station to over 80,000 K.W., will be housed in an annex to the present station. The annex will form the first section of a new Power Station, which will embody the latest features of the most modern power stations in the world.

These large contemplated extensions are an indication of the faith of the Directors of the China Light & Power Co. in the future of the Colony, and also of their far-sightedness in ensuring that the Company shall have ample provision for any increased demand consequent on future developments.

Mr. J. H. Penington, representing International Combustion, Ltd., who conducted the final negotiations on behalf of his principals in connection with the order for the boiler, came out as far as Penang by air. On June 5 he left the Colony by the R.M.A. Dorado and was the first through passenger to leave Hong Kong, connecting with the K.L.M. plane at Penang, which makes him due to arrive in London in 64 days from the date of his departure.

ITALIAN MONEY

The Italian Government has issued recently a disposition according to which all banknotes of any value circulating in foreign countries have to be handed to the Italian Consulate before the 10th of July. The amount corresponding to them will be credited to the depositors on the Banca Italia in Rome and will be kept there at their disposal but will be subject to the disposition of the Italian Government, limiting the export of Italian money and without carrying any interest.

WEDDING AT THE CATHEDRAL

Well Known Local Couple

ELMS-BUX

At the Roman Catholic Cathedral on Saturday, the Rev. Fr. Teruzzi officiating, with Miss Ayasha Adeline Marlene Bux, twin daughter of Mr. A. M. ("Iron") Bux, became the bride of Mr. Frederic James Franccombe Elms, second son of the late Mr. F. J. Elms, of Sevenoaks, Kent.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was in a dress of a flared skirt of heavy white satin with train, the fitted bodice being of white silk lace. The bodice had a shaped basque and fashionable leg-on-mutton sleeves, with buttons from the small lace collar to the waist.

The bride was attended by Miss Juno Bux as bridesmaid, who wore a bouffant dress of pink silk lace with puff sleeves, gauged at the armholes, and a flared skirt.

The bride's bouquet was of white gladioli, the bridesmaid carrying orange-blossom gladioli.

Mr. Edward Samuel Cunningham performed the duties of best man, and the bride's mother was in a green silk crepe skirt with a pique jacket of green lace.

Miss A. Baptista rendered appropriate music on the organ and a reception was afterwards held at No. 222, Wanchai Road.

The bride's travelling dress consisted of a pink lace bodice of silk, with buttons from collar to waist, and flared pink silk skirt.

BISHOP VALTORTA

Celebrates Consecration

Saturday was the tenth anniversary of the consecration of His Lordship Bishop Henry Valtorta as Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong and Bishop of Lerici.

His Lordship is at present in Italy on the first of his visit to the Holy See since his consecration.

He is expected to return to the Colony by the Victoria on July 23.

STRANGE JUNK FIRES ON CHINESE

Three People Hurt
At Aberdeen

ALL IN HOSPITAL

Three Chinese were injured by bullet wounds when they were fired on by several men in a junk near Aberdeen on Saturday.

Those wounded are:—Fung Fuk-tsan, fisherman, 30, wounds in both hands.
Ho Sze, 52 woman, wound in right hand.
Li Sze, 73 woman, wound in right hip.

None are in a serious condition and will probably be discharged from the Government Civil Hospital to-day.

Fung told Aberdeen police that he left his junk at 1 a.m. on Saturday for a fishing trip and soon noticed they were being followed by another junk.

They were overtaken at dawn and saw about seven or eight men who called on them to stop. When they refused they were met with a sudden attack of gunshot fire.

They followed a race back to Aberdeen and although they were fired on several times, Fung and the two women reached shore first and reported the matter to the police.

No trace has so far been found of the attackers.

SCOTS BIRTH RATE FALLING

Official Figures
Reveal
Big Decline

MARRIAGES ARE FEWER

London, May 27. The birth rate in Scotland fell from 35.0 to 21.5 per 100 estimated population from 1881 to 1931, marriages decreased from 7.0 to 6.9, deaths from 22.1 to 13.7, and deaths of children under one year from 12.1 per 1,000 births to 8.8.

That, in a sentence, gives the changes over seven decennial periods, the results of which are contained in Part II. of the supplement to the 75th annual report of the Registrar-General for Scotland.

In the last decennial period the death rate for the aggregated larger burghs is 15.3, for the small burghs 12.7, and for landward areas 12.0. In the large burghs it was highest in Coatbridge (17.1), Glasgow (15.5), and Greenock (16.1), and least in Dunfermline (12.6), Kirkcaldy (13.0), and Perth (13.2). The Edinburgh rate was 14.0.

THE KING DECIDES ON HOLIDAY AT BALMORAL CASTLE

MAY REMAIN MOST OF SEPTEMBER

London, May 28. I learned last night that the King has definitely decided to visit Balmoral Castle in September. The exact date when he will travel north is not yet fixed, but it is understood that he intends to spend the greater part of the month on Deeside.

As was recently announced, the King has leased extra moors adjacent to those of the Balmoral estate, and it is presumed that it is his intention therefore to have a considerable amount of shooting. The Balmoral moors are extensive and provide many days of sport, and the extra shooting area suggests that the King will have a larger guest party at the Castle than usual.

The late King George generally made a point of being in Scotland before the end of August, but King Edward has numerous important engagements to fulfill which will delay his journey north until the late summer.

MADE A FOOL OF FUSILIER

Story Of Wanchai
Assault

SOLDIER IN COURT

With his head bandaged and his eye and nose swollen, Yau Lun, taxi driver, appeared before Mr. Schofield in the Central Court on Saturday as complainant in an assault charge against Fus, E. Warren of the Royal Welch Fusiliers. Warren was bound over on entering into a $50 bond for a year. He was ordered to pay $2 compensation to Yau.

Sergeant McDonald told the Magistrate that Yau was sitting outside his garage at the corner of Fenwick Street and Hennessy Road, Wanchai, about 11 p.m. on Friday when Warren passed.

Yau called out "Taxi?" and when Warren walked on a crowd of Chinese in the vicinity began to laugh and apparently made a fool of Warren.

"For some unknown reason," went on Sergeant McDonald, "Warren and Yau came to blows. Warren attempted to push Yau and then struck him. Yau came to the police station to report and when I returned to the scene, Warren was still there. It seems very difficult to know the exact cause of the assault."

Warren admitted the charge.

TRIBUTE TO THE MODERN GIRL

INCREDIBLY TIDY

London, May 4. Mrs. Prudence Maufe, wife of the architect of Guildford Cathedral, paid a compliment to the modern girl at the annual conference, yesterday of the Association of Teachers of Domestic Subjects, held at the Regent-street, Polytechnic.

"I feel," she said, "that modern girls are quite incredibly tidy. They are absolutely marvellous. They are not only exquisitely dressed—all my typists are always much better dressed than I am—but they have that delicacy with their little red nails of putting things exactly in the right place."

"But concurrently with this goes a complete lack of a sense of quality. I do not know whether that is because they buy their clothes so cheaply and then throw them away afterwards."

Professor Patrick Abercrombie, Department of Town Planning, London University, said he thought that the freedom people would lose through having no backyards or gardens would be made up by a much greater use of the countryside.

He hoped that the humble pedestrian and cyclist would not be forgotten in the new schemes of road development. To say that every road should be widened to fifty, sixty, or eighty feet suggested bad planning.

He urged that lesser roads should be left as little touched as possible, and that footpaths and bridle paths should be preserved.

POOR OLD NEW DEAL

London, May 26.

"Blows" from the Supreme Court continue to fall on Mr. Roosevelt's New Deal with monotonous regularity. Yesterday's ruling that the Municipal Bankruptcy Act of 1934 is unconstitutional came only a week after the invalidation of the Guilef Coal Act. Mr. Roosevelt meets these reverses with equanimity nowadays, and merely sets about finding substitute legislation to circumvent them. A year ago, when the Court decided against the National Recovery Administration, he seemed disposed to start a campaign for the reform of the Constitution, which he described as suited to the "horse and buggy days" in which it was drafted. Now he keeps his own counsel, which is obviously the safest thing to do in the year of the Presidential Election.

ANOTHER REMAND

Six men charged in connection with an armed robbery on board an unlicensed junk in British Waters outside Lyeemut Pass on May 31, were again remanded for a week before Mr. E. Hinesworth at the Kowloon Magistracy. Amongst the cargo stolen were 20 tins of kerosene and 10 cases of matches.

"DAILY PRESS" TO MOVE

Office Transfer To Marina House

FROM OLD BUILDING

On August 1 the city office of the "Hongkong Daily Press" is to be removed from its present site in Ice House Street to more modern premises on the third floor Marina House, Queen's Road Central.

For more than 10 years the "Hongkong Daily Press" has occupied the first floor of the old building at the corner of Queen's Road Central and Ice House Street.

During recent years these premises have become out-of-date and with the erection of Marina House the opportunity was taken to secure more commodious and modern accommodation.

For many years before the "Daily Press" occupied the Ice House Street premises these were filled by the "Hong Kong Telegraph."

LORD ANDERSON

THE SENIOR SCOTTISH JUDGE

London, May 29. The death occurred in Edinburgh late on Wednesday night from bronchial pneumonia of the Hon. Lord Anderson, the senior Senator of the College of Justice in Scotland, at the age of 73. He had been in poor health for some time, but he persevered with his work on the Bench until Friday last.

Andrew Macbeth Anderson was born on November 6, 1862, the son of the Provost of Coupar Angus. He was educated at Dundee High School and Edinburgh University, where he distinguished himself in the law classes, and graduated in arts and laws. He was called to the Scottish Bar in 1889, and acquired a considerable practice largely in jury cases. He had an established position at the Bar when in 1908 he took silk. He had been made Advocate Depute in 1911, he became Solicitor-General for Scotland, a post for which he was highly qualified owing to his profound knowledge of the criminal law, but on seeking re-election for North Ayrshire he was defeated. He was elevated to the Bench with the judicial title of Lord Anderson in 1913, and since the recent retirement of Lord Hunter had been the senior judge.

In his political days Mr. Anderson did much valuable work for the Liberal Party. He contested North Ayrshire four times before he was ultimately successful in 1910. On the bench of the Outer House of the Court of Session Lord Anderson was a popular judge in the sense that his roll was always heavy, and it fell to him during the War and afterwards to dispose of a record number of divorce cases. His reputation as a judge was based on his sound knowledge of the law, his shrewd common sense, his clear and forceful dictation, and his sympathetic and understanding personality. On his transference to the appeal work of the Second Division his wide knowledge and experience proved of the utmost value to the Court. His work, "The Criminal Law of Scotland," is accepted as a leading textbook.

London, May 25. The Newdigate Prize, which has just been awarded for this year, has never been won by a great poet. The nearest to a great poet was Matthew Arnold, who won it in 1843 with a poem on Cromwell.

Most of the other winners are now quite forgotten. Many of them were clergymen; a few achieved eminence as men of letters. For instance, Ruskin was awarded the prize in 1839, Edwin Arnold in 1852, Oscar Wilde in 1878, and, surprisingly, Julian Huxley in 1908.

The first prize-winner, in 1808, was John Wilson, afterwards to become known as Christopher North. If not a poet himself he at least helped to damn one. His articles in "Blackwood's Magazine" on the Cockney school of poets savagely attacked especially Keats, and, in Shelley's opinion, hastened his death.

NAVAL DEFENCE

The debate in the House of Commons recently gave a clear indication of the general concern over the deficiencies which have been allowed to accumulate in the means of national defence in general, and of naval defence in particular. Anxiety for true coordination of the higher direction of the three fighting Services has been stayed, though not yet allayed, by the appointment of the Minister charged with that special task. The House is content for the moment to give Sir Thomas Inskip time to get to grips with it and to await the result of his labours, suspending judgment on the sufficiency of the improvements that his appointment may prove capable of effecting. Meanwhile the repair of deficiencies in the Defence Services admits of no delay, and it is urgently necessary to proceed with the measures designed before the creation of his office.

It is an index of the general anxiety that much of yesterday's debate should have been devoted to the Government's proposals, not for the provision of new ships, but for the disposal of cruisers which are well past the age limit. Under Part III of the London Naval Treaty of 1930, which limited the number of 8-inch-gun cruisers to be retained by the British, American, and Japanese Navies, it was intended before the end of this year to scrap the four large cruisers of the Hawkins class which, being then armed with 7.5-inch guns, were classified in that category, despite the fact that two of them are only twelve years old. The Government now propose to rearm three of them with 6-inch guns and to retain them in the lower category; but, since the treaty also limited the total cruiser tonnage, that action would cause the limit to be exceeded unless other ships were scrapped in their place. It is intended therefore to scrap five of the much smaller C class cruisers, which are already nineteen years old, and thus keep within the 1930 tonnage limit. Mr. Churchill, whose wide knowledge of naval matters gives him authority in speaking on them even with those who do not share his general views, pointed out that it does not seem very logical to dispose prematurely of five cruisers at a time when it is admittedly urgent to increase the total number of that class of ship by some 40 per cent. He urged the Government, since they have already initiated proposals to America and Japan for exceeding the treaty limits in average destroyers, to take the same action in the matter of cruisers, and to retain these five ships in service. That the Admiralty have not proposed that action is no doubt due to their decision that three large cruisers completed since the War are better value than five older and smaller ones, all of which were subjected to the heavy strain of two years' War service when they were new; and, if there are difficulties at the moment—in matters, for instance, such as manning—in retaining them all in service, a plain statement to this effect would be more convincing than generalities about the political objections to invoking the "escalator"

DOUBLE MURDER AT
TELEGRAPH BAYOld Man And Boy Killed
By Robbers

$300 BELIEVED STOLEN

An old man and a small boy were brutally murdered by thieves who attacked them in a small hut at Telegraph Bay, West Point, in the early hours of yesterday morning. It is believed that $300 was stolen.

The crime was not discovered for several hours and a large squad of police which is investigating the affair is facing difficulties in tracing the murderers.

Attacked In Small Hut

Victims of the affray are Sung Ting, 60, licensed hawk, and his adopted son, Sung Kwai-lol, 10, who were the only occupants of an unnumbered matchbox at Telegraph Bay.

Their bodies were discovered by Sung Ting's nephew, Cheung Yan, who occupies another hut in Telegraph Bay village.

He told the police that about 6.45 a.m. yesterday he went to his uncle's hut to buy cigarettes and found that the door was closed but not locked.

On entering he saw Sung's body on the floor with a towel tied tightly round the neck. In an inner room he found the adopted son, who was also dead, with a piece of cloth knotted round his throat.

The elder man was dressed in short trousers and jacket but the boy was undressed except for a small inner jacket.

Police, who were early on the scene, formed the opinion that death in both cases was due to strangulation. The elder man's face and head bore abrasions and bruises as if he had been struck with a heavy weapon.

ROOM RANSACKED

Robbery was apparently the motive for the crime for the inner room was in disorder and appeared to have been thoroughly ransacked.

Sung was something of a recluse and residents of Telegraph Bay knew little of his business so that police have so far been unable to ascertain if anything has been stolen, but the old man was rumoured to have had between $200 and $300 in the hut.

No sign of this money could be found, when the police searched the rooms.

The bodies were cold when discovered and death had apparently taken place some hours before. Dr. Begbie informed the police that he placed the time of death between 10 p.m. on Saturday and 4 a.m. on Sunday.

Sung was a native of Wai Show, and had occupied the hut at Telegraph Bay for about 13 years. He was unmarried but had adopted the boy a few years ago.

No arrests had been made at a late hour last night.

MORE STUDENT
TROUBLESPrompt Action By Police

Peiping, June 13.
Student trouble flared up again this morning, when 300 students from Yenching and Tsinghua marched ten miles into Peiping. However, the police had been warned and closed the Hsi Chih-men gate against them, and the gate is now strongly guarded.

Meanwhile between two and three hundred students in the south city began to demonstrate, but the police are preventing them from entering the Tartar city.

Class work in most of the universities has ceased, and six students have been arrested.

The object of the demonstration is at present unknown.—

NO WITHDRAWAL
BY KWANGSI

Still Occupy Kiyang

Shanghai, June 13.
Uneasiness has been caused by a reliable report from Changsha that the Kwangsi troops have ceased their withdrawal and are still occupying Kiyang. Two further divisions are reported to be preparing to go to Hunan from North Kwangsi. The Kwangtung troops continue their withdrawal.

Observers scarcely credit Kwangsi with being prepared to fight without the support of Kwangtung.—

clause" of the 1930 treaty. But the pressure put upon the Government in this matter should at least be a clear indication that the House and the country are in no mood to lose any time about putting the national defences in order.

TIGER CUB AT AMOYBeing Reared By
Two Women

A tiger cub, captured in the Amoy district during the week, is being reared by two European women in the northern port.

According to a traveller who returned from Amoy during the week-end, the cub is a few weeks old and is thriving in its new home. It is said to be of a yellowish colour with black stripes.

Chinese stories on how it came to be captured vary. One version says that three cubs were discovered by cane cutters and that two were killed with clubs, but a more fantastic one reports the discovery of an unknown cave in the hills outside Amoy.

Before they entered the cave a number of Chinese are said to have armed themselves with a machine gun and fired several rounds into the darkness. A large tiger is said to have suddenly bounded out and escaped, and two cubs killed.

At any rate, one live cub was brought to the city and sold to Mrs. A. J. Martin, wife of the British Consul, and Mrs. Wilding, wife of the Commissioner for Customs, who are rearing the animal.

ARNOLD BENNETT'S
MSS. SURPRISE

London, May 28.
The many thousands of words which Arnold Bennett wrote (with those which his friends wrote to him) were appraised at Sotheby's yesterday at £3,745.

In his heyday Bennett received an offer of £3,000 for the 200,000 calligraphic words of his "best seller," "The Old Wives' Tale." He refused it with disdain, stating that he hoped to live to obtain £5,000 for his work.

Yesterday all bidding stopped at £1,250, and the lot was withdrawn under the name of "Menken," as the reserve price placed upon the story had not been reached. "Menken" claimed also "Riceyman Steps" at £380, but Mr. R. Smith bought the 241,300 words of "Imperial Palace" for £220.

As for the journals, the best price was £30 for the columns of "silly."

If Gossip We Must

(BY "DAWN")

Officers of H.M.S. Tamar gave a cocktail party last Friday for Commander Hussey who was passing through on his way to England by the Ranpura. It was not a very large affair but most enjoyable nevertheless. The Commodore was there but we were sorry not to see Mrs. Sedgwick. I hear that she has been ill.

The new Commander of the Tamar and his wife were present. Mrs. Arbuthnot looking extremely smart in lavender with hat and shoes to match. Mrs. Clutterbuck, cool and fresh looking, was in green.

Professor and Mrs. Gerrard saw for a short time. It seems strange now going to these parties and not finding Betty and Heather in evidence.

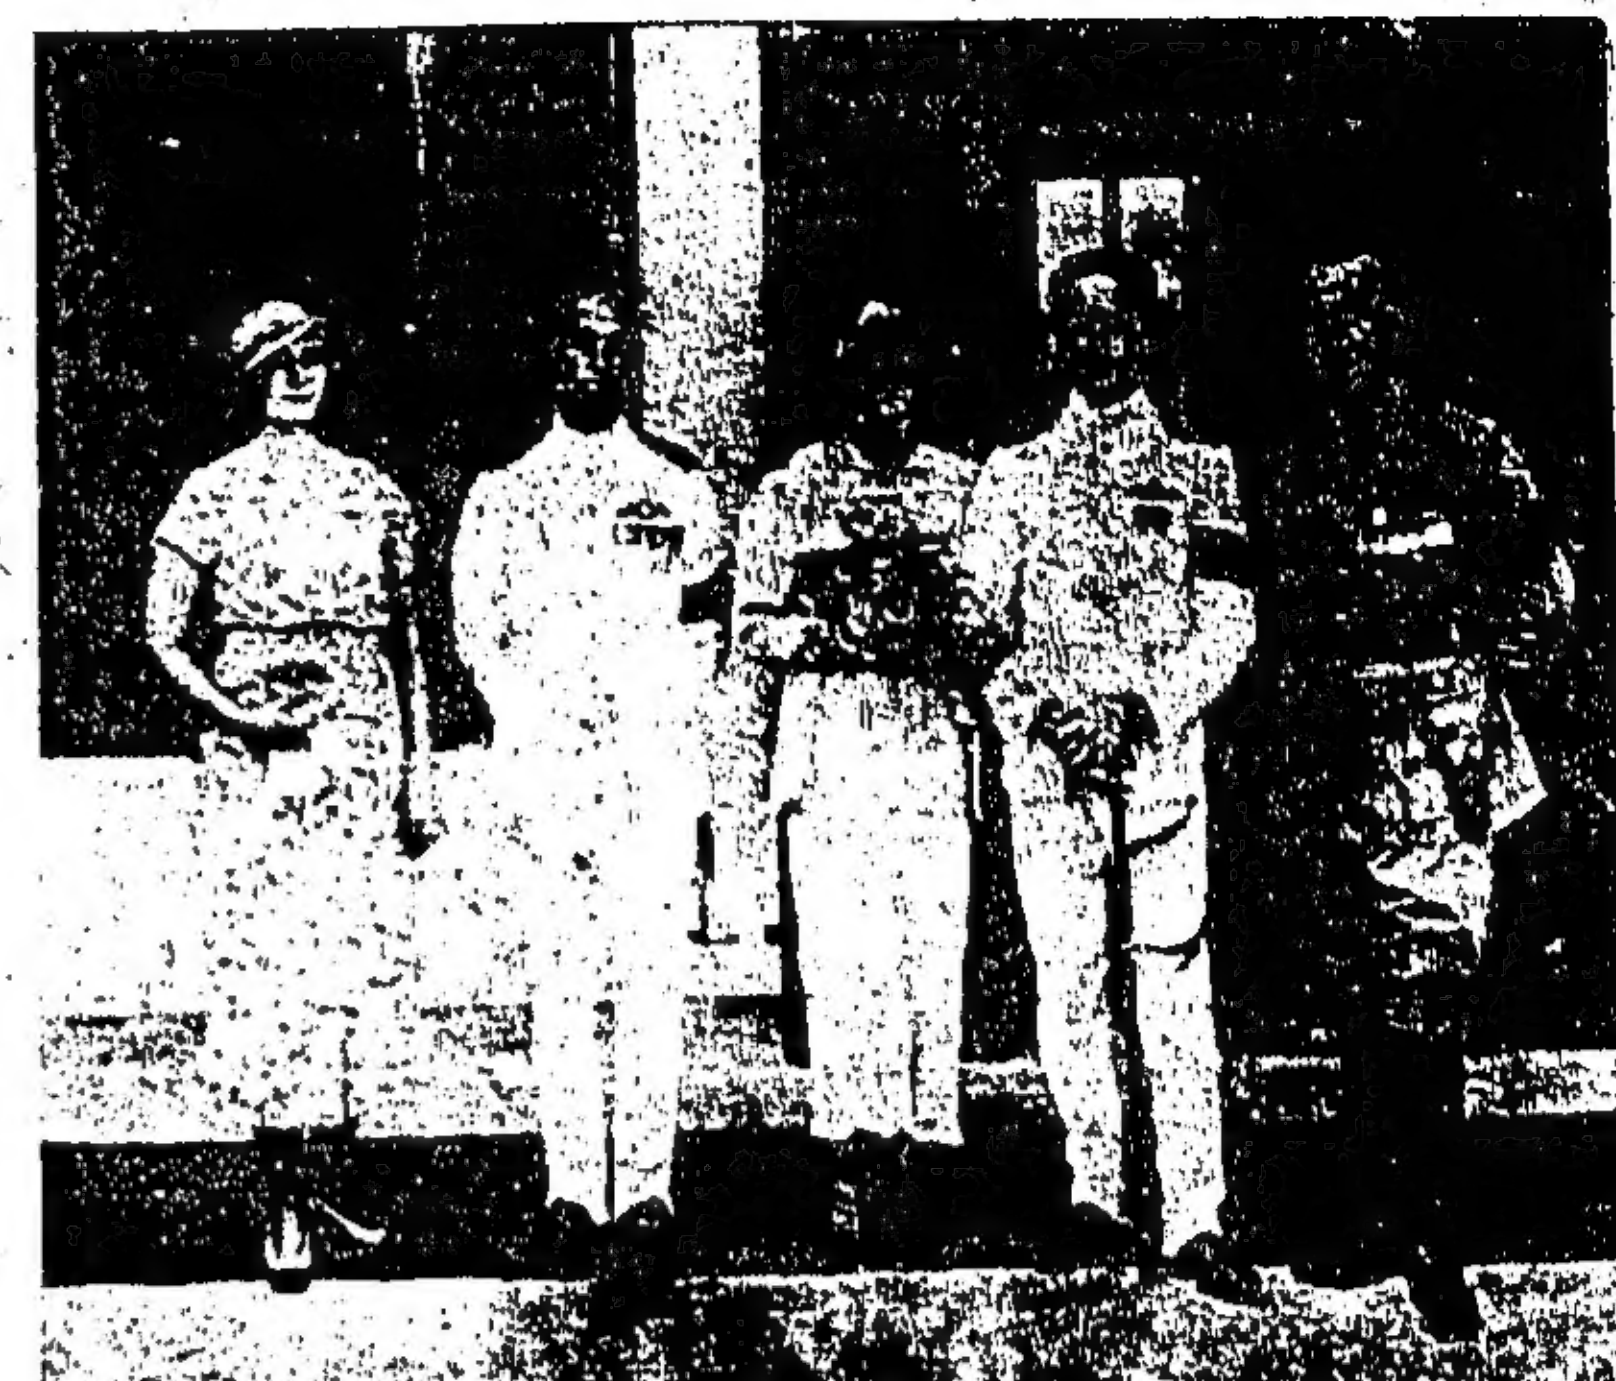

Mrs. "Tiny" Wright arrived in white pique with gold buttons and belt and was later seen dancing at the Hotel with Mr. Drummond. Mrs. Brown, her usual bright self and looking most attractive was enjoying the party I know.

Paymaster Commander and Mrs. Wright were both there also Captain and Mrs. Gray.

Commander Hussey was looking very well after his trip up north. He is going back to England for a short time and then on to the South of France. It is sad when one's friends are continually leaving Hong Kong and this week-end has been particularly bad with the Hoover, Ranpura and the Dauntless all leaving on the same day. However we hope to meet them all again one day.

Later, in the Hotel were to be seen a number of people who had been to the various cocktail parties during the early evening.

Col. Harrison was giving Commander Hussey a farewell which included Enid Chauvin whose brother was another to leave the Colony during the week-end. Pamela Dowdell was dining with David Fraser who left by the Dauntless. Peggy Godfrey and her fiancé had come on from the Tamar party, and no doubt several others from the Clough Taylors. In spite of the hot weather the Hotel still seems to be full night after night, with everybody enjoying themselves, which is the chief thing.

A picture taken at the marriage of Squadron Leader James Noel Douglas Anderson, R.A.F., and Miss Constance Emery at the Rosary Church, Kowloon, on June 11.

An R.A.F. wedding of interest took place last Thursday in Kowloon at the Rosary Church. The bridegroom was Squadron Leader Anderson of Kai Tak and his bride, who had just arrived from England by the Scharnhorst on Tuesday, was Miss Constance Emery.

She was married in a plainly cut dress of pale turquoise blue in a fancy crepe material with a three quarter length coat to match and a smart dark brown straw hat trimmed with blue velvet ribbon.

She is most attractive, being tall and dark with a beautiful figure.

After the service a reception was held at the mess at Kai Tak. Squadron Leader Dalzell was the best man and Col. Blake gave the bride away.

Mrs. Blake, who was at the wedding, left for England on Saturday, but is returning in the autumn.

Col. Harrison and Captain Waller were there too, and also Wing Commander and Mrs. Bishop and Flight Lieut. and Mrs. Field.

It was a quiet and small wedding but a very nice one, and with the couple all good luck and hope to see more of them when they return from honeymooning in Japan.

A farewell dinner was given to Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Innis by Mr. and Mrs. Yu Shih-chow on Friday night at the dinner dance on the roof garden of the Peninsula Hotel. About 30 members of the Shing Mun Dam staff were present.

A particularly attractive menu was arranged with appropriate engineering dishes. On the front was an excellent hand sketch of the Shing Mun Dam, with the following inscription:—

"Dam! Make this night a jubilee. It's a farewell to the C.A.R.E."

Among the guests were—Mr. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Bunble, Mr. Bach, Mr. Bercevitche, Mr. and Mrs. Yu Shih-chow, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Chatham, Mr. Coutts, Mr. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Englin, Mr. and Mrs. Finlay, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hills, Mrs. R. E. Hills, Mr. John Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. Lea, Dr. and Mrs. Mok, Mr. Sanderson, Mr. Vissew, and Mr. Wilson.

Dancing went on till closing time with great vigour and everybody appeared to be enjoying themselves. The roof garden of the Peninsula is certainly quite a cool spot in these vaporous times, and is growing in popularity.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS

Reported To Be Lying Off Amoy

Several Japanese warships are lying off Amoy, according to travellers who returned to Hong Kong from the northern port during the week-end.

A light cruiser, flying the Japanese flag, arrived off Kulangsu during the week, they reported, and on Friday was joined by seven destroyers.

The ships are said to have dropped anchor and so far none of their complements have gone ashore.

HIT-RUN DRIVER

Chinese Seriously Hurt
In Wanchai

An unknown Chinese was seriously injured when knocked down last night by a motor car which, it is alleged, did not stop.

The mishap occurred at the corner of Hennessy and Tonnochy Roads about 8 p.m. The man is said to have run across the path of a westbound tramcar and was struck by the motor which was travelling in the same direction.

He was thrown heavily to the roadway and received a dislocated hip and severe internal injuries. He was taken to the Government Civil Hospital.

SMUGGLING IN NORTH
CHINA

London, May 28.
Mr. Moreling (Preston, U.) asked the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether he would represent to the Japanese Government that the encouragement to smuggling in North China was incompatible with the ancient doctrine of Wang Tao which was being fostered by them in Manchuria, and whether, in the interests of British loans secured on the Chinese Customs, he would consult the Chinese Government and the various foreign Governments interested in Chinese loans with a view to organising an international preventive fleet to stop smuggling in North China.

Mr. Eden—I can assure my hon. friend that no relevant consideration that might conduce to a satisfactory solution of the problem will be lost sight of. I think, however, as regards the suggestion made in his question that the best means of checking the smuggling would be the restoration to the Chinese preventive agencies of the normal means of exercising their authority.

Mr. Moreling—Is the Foreign Secretary aware that since the Japanese have been in practical control of Manchukuo they have been preaching this doctrine of Wang Tao, which, briefly, is do unto others what you would they should do unto you, and would it not be better that they should apply it to North China as well as to Manchukuo?

Mr. Eden—I should be kept busy if I had to ask all Governments exactly what they think (Laughter).

CABINET CHANGES
ENVISAGED

From WILLIAM ALISON

("Evening Standard" Political Correspondent)

London, May 28.
In political quarters which are usually well-informed it is reported to-day that the coming reshuffle of the Cabinet may be on a considerably bigger scale than has been forecast hitherto.

The retirement of Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, it is said, is imminent. No surprise would be caused in these well-informed quarters if his resignation were announced during the Whitsun recess.

The position of Lord President of the Council which Mr. MacDonald holds, ranks second in the Government. A vacancy there would inevitably involve a series of changes.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The speaker at the Rotary Club on Tuesday will be the Rev. Father D. J. Finn, whose subject—"A Shady Past," has reference to prophetic man. ("White Ants" postponed to 30th).

Among the passengers booked for the Empress of Japan from Vancouver, on May 30, due Hong Kong on June 19, 1936, were the following:—Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Chang, Sir Atholl and Lady MacGregor (Chief Justice, Hong Kong), Miss A. M. Gairdner, Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Woo, Rev. and Mrs. A. Evans (Methodist Mission, Yunnan), Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Eardley.

Two cases of Enteric Fever were reported to the Health Authorities for the 24 hours ended on Friday.

The name of Dr. Herbert Kagee Wong, of Fung Fai Terrace, Happy Valley, has been added to the list of medical practitioners.

MAJOR STRIKES IN FRANCE SETTLED

A storm of criticism has been raised by Mr. Neville Chamberlain's personal reflections on the Italo-Abyssinian dispute which may end in a debate.

END OF LEAGUE SANCTIONS

Mr. Chamberlain's Reflections

MORE CRITICISM EXPECTED

London, June 13. The newspapers give considerable prominence to the discussion aroused by the speech of the Chancellor of the Exchequer at a political dinner on Wednesday evening, in which, as the Prime Minister subsequently explained in the House of Commons, he put forward suggestions with regard to the end of the League sanctions, which were "provisional reflections on the Italo-Abyssinian dispute which had occurred to him—Mr. Chamberlain—personally.

Despite Mr. Baldwin's additional comment that the Government had yet reached no conclusions on the matter discussed by Mr. Chamberlain in what was practically an impromptu discourse to an "exclusive and politically educated audience," there is vigorous speculation in the press as to the reaction of the Chancellor's observations to the policy of the British delegation at Geneva when the Council meets on June 26, writers tending to anticipate the Government's decision according to their individual hopes or fears.

A number of questions will be addressed to the Foreign Secretary in the Commons, on Monday arising out of the Chancellor's reported remarks, and in Parliamentary circles there is a growing feeling that it will be found convenient to have an early debate in the Commons on foreign affairs.

Journalists in touch with the state of Parliamentary business mostly fix on June 22 as the likely day for the debate, but others anticipate an earlier date. Mr. Chamberlain's speech last Wednesday was strongly criticised by the leader of the Opposition, Major Ailes, speaking at Oxford, last night, and also by Lord Davies, addressing a demonstration in South Wales.

TIMES COMMENT

London, June 13. The "Times," commenting on Mr. Neville Chamberlain's recent speech, in which he announced his opposition to the policy of continued sanctions against Italy, says that single-handed pressure by Britain for the readmission of Italian imports would be just as misguided as action in the contrary sense would have been six months ago.

It is common ground that the misadventure "sanctions" are not a permanent undertaking, and a collective experiment can only be brought to an end collectively. The right reinforcement (positive as well as negative) of the structure of peace, in the light of the international failure to apply the preventive machinery of the Covenant, overshadows the question of how and when the Powers concerned may decide to end the attempt at counter-aggression by measures of passive economic resistance.

Sectional Trouble Not Yet Over

STEELWORK FACTORY "OCCUPIED"

Stay-In Movement Spreads To Morocco!

Paris, June 13. A pleasant week-end feeling of relief follows the settlement of the major strikes though some sectional strikes are not yet concluded, but events are tending to bear out M. Leon Blum's prediction that the effect will be normal at the beginning of the week.

New strikes are beginning to break out in the provinces, but at Amiens, Toulouse, Toulon and elsewhere the owners of big shops are prepared to give their staffs a holiday and close the premises instead of risking a stay-in movement which has now spread to Morocco.—Reuter.

STEELWORKERS DOWN TOOLS

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Paris, June 13.

While in Paris workers in lorries paraded the streets in triumph on Saturday in celebration of their victory preparatory to returning to work on Monday, the position in the provinces is by no means so satisfactory and it seems unlikely that there will be a resumption of work before the middle of next week.

Several new strikes broke out in fact, on Saturday, the most important being at the Umphy Steelworks at Nevers, where 18,000 hands downed their tools and occupied the factory.

In Toulon the proprietors of the largest department stores have locked out employees in order to prevent them taking possession of the premises, even temporarily.—Transocean News Service.

FASCIST STYLE OBSERVANCE

Rhetorical Utterances Condemned

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Rome, June 13.

"Strong exception is taken to the 'empty rhetorical exhibitionism' in a special order published in the Fascist Party Bulletin which states that this is becoming an increasingly marked feature of speeches glorifying the foundation of the Italian Colonial Empire. Public utterances in this style, continues the Bulletin, are 'by no means in keeping with the dignity of the occasion' and all party authorities are instructed to take measures to counteract this tendency since 'the increase in the historical responsibility of Fascism renders strict observance of the Fascist style more than ever necessary.'"

SECOND TRAINING SHIP

Horst Wessel Launched At Hamburg

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Hamburg, June 13.

The German Navy's second training ship Horst Wessel was launched here on Saturday in the presence of Chancellor Hitler.

The christening ceremony was performed by the mother of Horst Wessel who, it will be recalled, wrote and composed the famous song which has now become Germany's second national anthem and who was murdered by Communists some years ago.

At the same hour as the ship was launched (12 noon) a wreath was laid on Horst Wessel's grave in the capital on behalf of the Commander-in-Chief of the German Navy.

AGREEMENT REACHED

Paris, June 13.

Agreement between the employers and workers in the metal industry was at last reached last evening, and 35,000 metal workers in greater Paris will resume work on Monday. Factories occupied by the workers will be evacuated at once. The strike of building trade workers was likewise ended, with the exception of some minor groups.

Before the building trade workers return to work they will, however, hold a mass meeting in the Bois de Vincennes to celebrate their victory. Since the proclamation inviting the workers to attend the meeting warns eventual participants that street processions are not permitted, it is hoped that the meeting will pass without any untoward incidents.

Butchers' shops will reopen today, as the shop-owners and employees have come to terms.

PRESS WARNING

The Radical-Socialist paper, "Republique" publishes an article warning the Government that "the fate of the Popular Front depends on a rapid settlement of the present social conflicts." It points out that the economic life of France has come to a partial standstill, and that the French export business has sustained serious losses as a result of the strike, since many orders from abroad which normally would have gone to France were placed with the foreign competitors of French importers during the strike.

The paper refers to the fact that agreement on principle between the employers and workers had already been reached on June 7, and declares that the continuation of the strike beyond this date was therefore absolutely unjustified.—Transocean News Service.

MASKED PIRATE ATTACK

Egyptian Cargo Ship Ransacked

Bucharest, June 13.

Brandishing knives and pistols, masked pirates attacked the Egyptian cargo ship Mabro in Braila. They approached the ship in rowboats with muffled oars, and climbed aboard by means of rope ladders, surprised the sleeping crew and bound and gagged them.

The pirates ransacked the ship from stem to stern. Not content with removing money, valuable carpets and oriental goods they stole the crew's clothes.

Coastguards saw the pirates quitting the Mabro and opened fire, but missed. Police boats attempted to follow the marauders, but, aided by the darkness, they disappeared.—Reuter.

FAMOUS AUTHOR DEAD

MR. G. K. CHESTERTON

London, June 14.

The death has occurred of Mr. G. K. Chesterton, the famous British author.—Reuter.

Gilbert Keith Chesterton was born at Camden Hill, Kensington in 1874. He was the son of the late Edward and Marie Louis Chesterton.

He was educated at St. Paul's College and attended classes at Slade School, and began reviewing art books for the Bookman, and then for the Speaker, and since then has contributed to the Daily News, Literature, Pall Mall Magazine, Bookman, Speaker, Black and White, Echo, World, Clarion, English Illustrated Magazine, Byland, Forthrightly, and Independent Review, Illustrated London News, New York Times, etc. He was Editor of G. K.'s Weekly and President of the Distributist League.

DARINGLY ORIGINAL

He studied art, and early exhibited remarkable precocity with pen and pencil. His first publication was "The Wild Knight" (1900) a volume of poems. A master of paradox and daringly original in his point of view, Chesterton delighted an ever-increasing public with startling criticism of life and letters, with fantastic fiction and volumes of essays. Among these are "All Things Considered," 1908; "Tremendous Trifles," 1909; and the novels, "The Napoleon of Notting Hill," 1904; "Manalive," 1912; and "Flying Inn," 1914.

His monograph on Browning, 1903; Watts, 1904; and Dickens, 1908, abound in passages of happily illuminating appreciation and his Victorian Age in Literature, 1913, interprets that age with a daring that does not preclude sympathy.

DETECTIVE TALES

He was an adept at new tales of the amateur detective, such as "The Innocence of Father Brown," 1911. In 1913 his play Magic was produced in London, and in 1917 he published "A Short History of England," an unconventional but amazingly good commentary. Powys says he is "the only man of letters in England who has had the originality or the insight or the temperamental courage to

Death Penalty And Life Sentences

Jerusalem, June 13.

New and drastic regulations involving the death penalty and life imprisonment for acts of terrorism are provided in a proclamation issued by the High Commissioner, Sir Arthur Wauchope.

Punishment may be applied in respect of firing on troops, bomb throwing, and interfering and tampering with communications.

District commissioners may impose collective fines and confiscate property where there is reason to believe that the persons caused such offences to be committed or even refrained from assisting in the discovery of the offenders.

The authorities are determined to do nothing in the way of negotiating with the Arab strikers until they cease disturbances and intimidations.

The High Commissioner in a declaration paid high tribute to the British police and forces in the performance of their duties.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

COMPLETE CURE FOUND

Experiment Treatment For Hay-Fever

London, June 13.

A treatment for hay-fever which has been given a trial over a period of five years at St. George's Hospital in London has proved successful in 99 per cent. of the cases. The treatment involves the application of ionised zinc to the inside of the nostrils. Three or four applications are given, after which the majority of patients are free from attacks of ordinary hay-fever for a year.

Precautionary applications are given at the end of twelve months and again a year later, and after that there is usually no recurrence of the trouble.—British Wireless.

THREAT TO FOOD SUPPLIES

DOCK LABOUR STRIKE IN BELGIUM

GRAVE OUTLOOK IN THE COAL INDUSTRY

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Brussels, June 13. A serious threat to the food supplies seems imminent if the dock labourers' strike continues much longer, there already being a shortage of chilled meat throughout Belgium, while perishable provisions in a number of vessels in Antwerp harbour are now completely spoiled.

The outlook in the coal industry is also disquieting. 20,000 miners now being on strike, while a complete stoppage in the Borinage district was unanimously decided upon on Saturday at a meeting of the miners and trade union in Hornu.

The strike movement is still gaining ground, particularly among the miners. Practically all the miners in the Liege region are idle, and the strike is also now spreading to the other mining areas.

The striking workers of the Government-owned arms factory at Herstal occupied the factory buildings, but left the works when gendarmes who had been summoned by the management arrived on the scene.—Transocean News Service.

GERMAN-FRENCH SOCIETY

Reception Held In Berlin

"Hong Kong Daily Press" Special

Berlin, June 13.

The German-French Society, which has been recently founded and which aims at promoting Franco-German rapprochement, gave a brilliant reception here on the occasion of the inauguration of its clubhouse, when they entertained many distinguished guests including the French Ambassador, at Berlin, M. Francois Poncet, Chancellor Hitler's Ambassador-at-Large, Herr von Ribbentrop, and a delegation from the Franco-Allemagne Committee in Paris.

Professor von Arnim, who is chairman of the German-French Society, in welcoming the guests stressed the importance of the task assigned to the Society since lasting peace in Europe depended on the relations between France and Germany. The Chairman of the Franco-Allemagne Committee, M. Fournieu, as well as the representative of the French Servicemen's Association responded.—Transocean News Service.

WIDE POWERS FOR DUTCH BANK

Better Control Over Money Market

Amsterdam, June 13.

Wide powers for the Netherlands bank in order to strengthen its influence are contained in a Bill tabled by the Government in the Second Chamber, amending the Government's contract with the Bank as from its expiry on March 31, 1937.

The amendment will enable the Bank to adopt a definite open market policy, enabling it to control the money market better than at present, since the Bank is now only able to exert its influence by altering the bank rate.

The Bank will be authorised to buy and sell inland bills and Treasury bills from "second-hand." In order to strengthen the Bank's financial power a special reserve fund of 10,000,000 guilders will be created, bringing the general reserve to 20,000,000 guilders.—Reuter.

He also thanked the Chinese Government and the new Chinese Ambassador in Berlin and many other friends of the Institute, in both countries through whose combined efforts alone the new home had been made possible.

In all the speeches that followed and particularly in those of Dr. Cheng and Dr. Trautmann, great emphasis was laid on the function of this new home and the part it would play in weaving the strands of friendship closer and closer. WIGHTMAN CUP THRILLS

Strong Last-Minute Rally

JACOBS-FABYAN TRIUMPH

Wimbledon, June 13. After a most thrilling contest America retained the Wightman Cup by winning four matches to three to-day. Play started with Britain leading by two matches to one, but America made the position level at two matches each by Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabyan unexpectedly getting the better of Miss Kathleen Stammers 6-3, 6-4. Miss Stammers was nothing like on top form and found the American girl at the peak of her form. This match was played on a wet court with a crowd of 7,000 attending in cold weather.

Britain led three matches to two when Miss Caroline Babcock beat Miss Mary Hardwick 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. Miss Hardwick tired after a scintillating second set.

DECIDING MATCH

The contest was decided on the doubles which appeared sure to go to Britain when Miss Kathleen Stammers and Miss Freda James secured the first set at 6-1 against Miss Helen Jacobs and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey-Fabyan, but the Americans, especially Miss Jacobs, who were playing very poorly at the start, rallied strongly and gave a better display in the thrilling rallies which held the crowd in a state of delirium. The American pair won 1-6, 6-3, 7-5 and Mrs. Palfrey-Fabyan's brilliant display to-day.

The following were the full results:—

Miss K. Stammers (Britain) beat Miss H. Jacobs 12-10, 6-1. Miss D. Round (Britain) beat Mrs. S. Palfrey-Fabyan 6-3, 6-4. Miss C. Babcock and Mrs. Van Ryn (U.S.) beat Miss E. Dearman and Miss N. Lyle 6-2, 1-6, 6-3. Mrs. S. Palfrey-Fabyan (U.S.) beat Miss K. Stammers 6-3, 6-4. Miss D. Round (Britain) beat Miss H. Jacobs 6-3, 6-3. Miss C. Babcock (U.S.) beat Miss M. Hardwick 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. Miss H. Jacobs and Mrs. S. Palfrey-Fabyan (U.S.) beat Miss Stammers and Miss F. James 1-6, 6-3, 7-5.

EXCELLENT RACING AT MACAO

SYLVANDE WINS THE SOUTH CHINA CUP

Pays $116.80 For A Win

There was a very large gathering at Macao yesterday to witness the last meeting of the season of the Macao Jockey Club. The chief attraction of course was the "South China Cup" where a cash sweep was held with over $17,000 for the winner. For this race there were 36 entries and eight came under the starter's orders.

The racing in general was good and the field fair in spite of several torrential showers.

There were two upsets one especially Monoplane who did not seem to relish the heavy going. We think that Plain View and Humber rather let their supporters down. That popular Lan stable won the first two races.

THE RESULTS

1.—Race Course Handicap—First Section (9 Furlongs)

Mr. Lan's Night View, 153 lbs. (Mr. N. Deltz) 1

Mr. Weetoo's Double Chance, 144 lbs. (Mr. Ip Kui Ying) 2

Mr. H. A. Browning's King's Parade, 142 lbs. (Owner) 3

Won by 1 1/2 lengths, three lengths between second and third.

Time: 17.1, 50.3, 1.23.3, 1.53.2, 2.29.3.

Part-mutuel:—

Win: $9.70.

Place: $5.70, $7.50, $10.30.

Also ran:—Popular Star, Pride of Tsingtao and West Parade.

Despite the heavy burden of 153 lbs. Pride of Tsingtao made the running on this, but soon petered out, and Mr. N. Deltz who was always nicely placed on Night View won handily by 1 1/2 lengths.

Betting:—

1st Pony 103 75

2nd Pony 34 23

3rd Pony 6 11

The Field 94 61

Total 237 170

2.—Choi Ma Hui Handicap (6 Furlongs)

Mr. Lan's Ocean View, 166 lbs. (Mr. S. Y. Liang) 1

Mr. C.N.K.'s Rugby Star, 147 lbs. (Mr. N. Deltz) 2

Mr. K. W. Fung's Gold Eagle, 150 lbs. (Mr. S. C. Liang) 3

Won by one length, 2 1/2 lengths between second and third.

Part-mutuel:—

Win: $30.40.

Place: $3.70, $7.80, $11.

Also ran:—Potlatch, Shamrock and Strathalan.

During this race a heavy down-pour of rain occurred which just seemed to suit Ocean View who led from start to finish, and despite determined efforts by Rugby Star won by one length.

Betting:—

1st Pony 35 29

2nd Pony 78 38

3rd Pony 26 18

The Field 112 92

Total 251 177

3.—Grand Stand Handicap (1 Mile)

Mr. L.T.F.'s Great Hall, 151 lbs. (Mr. G. Roza) 1

Mr. Chiu Cheong Fan's Monoplane, 184 lbs. (Mr. S. C. Liang) 2

Part-mutuel:—

Win: $32.80.

Place: $7.30, $5.80, $7.40.

Also ran:—Harvest View, New Star and Flybynight.

Monoplane was favourite in the race. Great Hall made all the running in front and won with plenty to spare.

Betting:—

1st Pony 39 25

2nd Pony 53 33

3rd Pony 55 21

The Field 154 99

SCOTTISH NEWS

CHOOSING THE MODERATOR

London, May 25.
The new method to be adopted of nominating the Moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland has yet to be put to the test, but the narrow majority by which the proposal was accepted suggests grave doubts as to its efficacy. It may be of course, that this essentially democratic procedure of putting the business into the hands of a committee of 178 strong will work quite well, but experience tells us that large committees are cumbersome and, more often than not, ineffective. Committees do their best work when they are small in numbers, and the smaller the better. It has indeed been said that the ideal number for a committee is one.

GLASGOW TRAFFIC LIGHTS

The inauguration this week of the new traffic lights at the junction of Great Western Road and Park Road shows the possibilities of arranging traffic signals so that vehicles may turn right handed without the risks of filtering. The signals are so timed that west-bound traffic along Great Western Road is held up while trams and other vehicles turn into Park Road or proceed towards St. George's Cross. At the same time traffic coming out of Park Road may turn left handed into Great Western Road. The system results in some slight checking of traffic, but it makes the junction all but fool-proof. Whether some modification of this system can be introduced at such crossings as that of Renfield Street and Sauchiehall Street, where there is right-handed filtering in two directions, is a matter for the experts, but of the need for a safer signalling system at this and other crossings in Glasgow there can be no doubt.

ANCIENT SCOTTISH HOUSES

Representations have been made to the Secretary of State for Scotland, I learn, in regard to the fate that may befall many old but interesting buildings in the course of the campaign to rid Scottish towns of houses that are unfit for habitation. It has been pointed out that clearance schemes may well involve the demolition of houses which, though no longer habitable, are worth preserving because of their architectural or historical value. As the transforming of such dwellings into places other than for use as houses is outwith the scope of the Government's housing finance, a special scheme will have to be devised for their preservation. Colonel Colville, Under-Secretary of State, is shortly to receive a deputation on the matter from the National Trust for Scotland, and following upon that Sir Godfrey Collins will consult with the First Commissioner of Works as to what measures can reasonably be taken to save such buildings from demolition.

THE KING SENDS A MESSAGE TO MISSION WORKERS

"It is interesting to hear that the Church of Scotland has now got such a very close connection with this work. It is not perhaps widely known that the Church of Scotland has a network of institutions and agencies desiring to relieve those who have met with misfortune throughout the country."

These remarks were made by the Lord High Commissioner, Lord Kinnaird, who was accompanied by Lady Kinnaird and their suite, when he addressed a representative gathering in the People's Palace, Edinburgh, yesterday afternoon.

He had a message, he said to give them from the King, whom he saw a few weeks ago.

The King wished him to say how tremendously pleased he was with the work that was being done by them for helping boys and girls to get a good start. All that helped in making happier homes for his people, which was really near to his heart. (Applause.)

In introducing His Grace, Mr. McKerrall Brown, chairman of the Mission Directors, said that it would be of interest to Lord Kinnaird to know that his father, the late Lord Kinnaird, who was the Lord High Commissioner from 1907-1909, paid a visit to the free breakfast meeting in the Drill Hall along with the late Lord Stair when the latter held the same office in 1910-28 years ago.

THE NEW YORK STAMP EXHIBITION

BRITISH SUCCESS

The recent international stamp exhibition in New York, the largest ever held, was notable, I hear, for the success of the British exhibitors. Three of them, Sir Nicholas Waterhouse, Mr. Leonard Snowden, and Mr. Walter Lind, were among the twelve who received honour prizes, and fifty-five of the 104 British exhibitors won prizes of some sort, writes a correspondent. Among these were three Lancashire men, Mr. R. W. T. Jones, Mr. George Ginter, and Mr. W. Lindsay Everard, and of the British women exhibitors Mrs. Anson McLevery and Miss W. Penn-Gaskell also won awards. Miss Penn-Gaskell's collection of air-post stamps in connection with special flights, consisting partly of balloon messages sent by Shackleton and other Polar explorers, aroused particular interest, and the British exhibits generally, though only one-twentieth of the whole number, were considered the most important in the exhibition. In addition a British firm of stamp dealers beat the Americans with their philatelic albums.

The exhibition was an enormous affair, taking up three floors of the Grand Central Palace. There were thirty other European exhibitors besides the British, and exhibitors from South America, India, Australia, China, and Japan. The award winners received medals of gold, silver, or gilt, designed by M. M. Young, a sculptor and the grandson of Brigham Young. A special sheet of four American commemorative stamps was printed, obtainable only at the exhibition itself. On one occasion Dr. Hugo Eckener and the crew of his airship were guests at the exhibition.

PARCELS BY AIR TO ALL PARTS

AEROPLANE AIRSHIP SERVICE

An agreement has been reached between the German Zeppelin Company and the influential American air line company Transcontinental and Western Air which provides for the co-operation of the air parcel post agencies, General Air Express and Air Express International with the Zeppelin Company.

This will mean parcels being carried by an aeroplane-airship service to all parts of the world, resulting in a considerable saving of time.

For example, New York to Calcutta will take six days, compared with the 35 days by steamer, and New York to Sydney 15 days, compared with the 45 days by steamer. The tariff is approximately 5s. per pound between New York and Frankfurt.

"RUGGER" NERVES

London, May 28.

Sir Roger Keyes will tell you that if you wish your boy to succeed in the Navy you must make him play polo. Mr. "Gerry" Weigall will vociferously acclaim that cricket is the finest test of nerve and courage. But in a tight corner either in war or sport give me your Rugger man.

Mr. "Mortie" Dykes, who has provided the sensation of this year's amateur golf championship by knocking out the favourite, Mr. "Bobby Jones" Locke, and going round in fours to do it, belongs to the most famous Rugger family in Scotland.

In the opinion of many experts, his father, Mr. J. M. Dykes, a past president of the Union, was the finest forward who ever wore a Scottish jersey.

"Mortie's" cousins are "Andie" and Jimmie Dykes, both famous Lorettonians. Jimmie played 20 times for Scotland between 1922 and 1929, strangely enough nearly always as a reserve for either Herbert Waddell or Phil Macpherson. "Mortie" himself was a trial international and a prominent member of post-war Fettesian-Lorettonian sides.

the burgh of Fort William in Scotland to its namesake town in Ontario.

Members of the Town Council and representatives of other public bodies wished the Provost bon voyage when he left yesterday morning. As the train drew out of the station a fanfare of fog signals greeted the burgh's ambassador to Canada.

BURTON WINS TITLE

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Leeds, June 13.

Richard Burton beat A. G. Matthews 3 and 2 in the thirty-six hole final of the Yorkshire Evening News golf tournament.

Matthews was brilliant in the morning, being four up with 73 to 78 in the afternoon.

Burton made an amazing start by winning the first four holes.

The match was played in heavy rain and a strong wind.

EARLIER SURPRISES

Leeds, June 12.

The Yorkshire Evening News golf tournament continues to yield surprises.

The Ryder Cup players, Easbrook, Cox and Reginald Whitcombe were beaten to-day in the third and semi-final rounds.

The final thirty-six holes tomorrow will be contested by Richard Burton, of Cheshire, Ryder Cup player, and A. G. Matthews, an unknown from Rockingham.

Matthews eliminated Branch, the noted Padgham's conqueror, two and one, in the third round and the equally distinguished Cox, 5 and four, in the semi-final.

In the other semi-final Burton beat Whitcombe five and three.

SIR JOHN SIMON WINS AT 21ST

KEEN PARLIAMENTARY HANDICAP DUEL

London, May 24.

Sir John Simon, the Home Secretary, who won in 1934, reached the fourth round of the Parliamentary Handicap at Walton Heath after two close matches.

Sir John, who plays from handicap 11, gained an easy victory—5 and 3—over J. R. Remer (9) in the first round, but had to play 21 holes before he won in the afternoon against A. R. Tree, who received one stroke.

In his second round match Sir John did the first nine holes in 41—two over the scratch score—and at the turn was two up. Tree squared at the last hole, but after two halves was in a run from the tee. Sir John, playing two good shots to the green, won the hole in a par four.

Against G. M. Garro-Jones, yesterday, in the third round, Sir John made a good recovery after being three down with five to play, and won at the last hole.

Lord Fairfax of Cameron, the holder, beat another past winner, Guy L'Estrange, by 3 and 2 in the second round.

Lord Bocket and Col. J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon, the joint back markers, at plus one, reached the third round. Lord Bocket who, as Ronald Nall-Cain, was captain of Oxford University in 1925, beat G. W. Mason (18) by 9 and 7 in the first round, and later beat Bracewell Smith (12) by 4 and 3.

Three women members of Parliament were among the 98 entrants, but all failed to survive the day's play. Lady Astor was beaten by T. Levy; Miss Thelma Cazalet lost a close match to Lord Gage; and Miss Irene Ward was beaten by Lord Strabolgi.

ALL BASEBALL GAMES OFF

Due to the wet state of the old Polo Ground at Causeway Bay, all league baseball games scheduled for the week-end were postponed. Yesterday the combined Canadians and Americans nine were pitted against the Volunteers in a friendly game of five innings played on the Caroline Hill ground.

NURMI'S TIME LOWERED

Two-Mile Record

Princeton, June 14.

The world's two-mile record was broken by Donald Lash of the University of Indiana in 8 minutes 58-3/10 seconds, beating Nurmi's time of 8 minutes 59-8/10 seconds established in 1931.

WESTCHESTER CUP POLO SERIES

Hurlingham, June 13.
The second match in the Westchester Cup polo series, scheduled for to-day, has been postponed to next Saturday owing to heavy rain.

America beat Britain by 10 goals to 9 in the first match last Wednesday.

In the event of Britain winning next Saturday the deciding game

CARNERA HAS A PARALYTIC STROKE

SIX POLICEMEN CARRY HIM FROM THE RING

New York.

Primo Carnera, former heavyweight champion of the world, was carried from the ring by six policemen after he had been seized with a paralytic stroke in the left leg during the ninth round of his return contest with Leroy Haynes, the "black shadow," before a crowd of 30,000 at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn.

The fight ended dramatically with the giant floundering helplessly against the ropes, almost unable to stand on his left leg.

The referee stopped the contest and the fight was awarded to Haynes on a technical knockout. Haynes thus repeated his sensational victory of last March, when he battered Carnera into submission in three rounds.

CRAFTY.

The official diagnosis of the injury by three doctors was: "A twisting and partial dislocation of the sacroiliac joint, resulting in paralysis of the left leg from the thigh to the toes."

The trouble is apparently only temporary. The negro launched an attack with both fists from the first ring of the going.

It was a leg-weary Carnera that came up for the fifth, before which his seconds gained him an extra-minute's rest by craftily taking off his right glove and dropping it out of the ring.

In the 8th round Carnera floundered around the ring and held on to the ropes and was on the verge of falling when the referee stopped the fight.

will be played at Hurlingham on the following Wednesday.—British Wireless.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

"Should another outbreak of violence occur in Europe or Asia, the hope of any real prosperity would be effectually destroyed for this generation, even if the present fabric of civilisation survived."—Mr. Harold Butler.

"The mortal enemy of Europe is nationalism. This is the eternal disturber of the peace which keeps Europe perpetually in unrest."—Baron Hammerstein-Equord (Austria).

"Christianity is the one force upon which finally the new and better order—which is coming within reach of mankind—can be founded."—Lord Lothian.

"This country wants a European settlement, but France wants the status quo more than she wants a European settlement."—Lord Arnold.

"Instead of relying upon a multiplicity of pacts, which experience has shown are more likely to be broken than observed, this country should strengthen its defences."—Lord Buckmaster.

"We are not safe in presuming that should war occur, any preliminary declaration will be made."—Mr. Duff Cooper.

"A victory won by flagrant breaking of covenants, by bombs deliberately flung on Red Cross hospitals, by mustard gas scattered to torture defenceless non-combatants, has been hailed as the happy triumph of a great and good people."—The Bishop of Southwark.

"We have restricted individual liberties only where they clashed with the needs of the people."—Dr. Goebbels (Germany).

"The master weapon of armed forces to-day is the air weapon. Left in the hands of national governments there is the great danger of 'mutual catastrophic destruction.'—Lord Davies.

"The Army has had enough of apologising for its existence."—Lt. Colonel R. C. Bingham.

"Great nations are seeking to combat their internal misfortunes by turning their backs upon liberty and instituting regimes of force."—M. Lebrun (France).

"There is nothing between us and a foreign aerodrome except the Territorial Army."—Major-General Thompson.

"Germany will do her best to make of the Olympic festival a great manifestation of peace for which the world longs."—Dr. T. H. Lewald (Germany).

"Germany can count on many warm hearts in this country."—Sir Thomas Inskip.

"There is a terrible problem in front of us as to whether the improved technique of the dictator States is going to make them more and more powerful in the future of the world."—Sir John Simon.

"When a child is walking up to school he should see a building that invites him to go into it."—Lord De La Warr.

"We conform to the rules of cricket, football, tennis, and other sports. Why not to the rule of the road?"—Mr. J. R. Clynes.

"We must keep our heads cool and think how to save the Covenant so that the League can be founded on a more real basis."—Dr. Collin (Holland).

"Surely, after eighteen years of it, people are beginning to see that the League of Nations is a blind alley, in which a vast wealth of hope and good intentions has been wasted."—Mr. H. G. Wells.

THE WALKER CUP

SIX PLAYERS INVITED

London, May 28. The Championship Committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews issued a statement yesterday morning in which they invited the following six amateur golfers to play for Great Britain in the Walker Cup match at Pine Valley (U.S.A.) on September 2 and 3:—

H. G. Bentley (Hesketh).
J. D. A. Langley (Northwood).
P. B. Lucas (Sandy Lodge).
J. McLean (Haydon).
H. Thomson (Williamwood).
Dr. W. Tweddell (Stourbridge).

Tweddell will captain the team, further nominations for which will be made later. Bentley, McLean, and Tweddell have played in previous matches. Bentley recently won the English Championship and appears to be in his best form. Thomson, despite his surprise defeat in the Scottish Championship, is still one of the best players in Great Britain.

Dr. Tweddell, British amateur champion nine years ago, captained Great Britain against America in 1923, at Chicago Golf Club, and so recently as last year's amateur championship, when he gave such a good performance in the final against W. Lawson Little, the American winner, he proved that he has not lost his form. Tweddell, at 39, is the "veteran" of the six nominations. Langley is 18

THE ARMY

WAR OFFICE CHANGES

London, May 29. Colonel Arthur N. Floyer-Acland, D.S.O., M.C., who has been appointed Commander of the Jhelum Brigade, with effect from July, is an Assistant Adjutant-General in the War Office. He began his service in the Warwickshire Militia, and has been Adjutant and O.C. 1st Battalion, The D.C.L.I. G.S.O. in the War Office (twice), on the staffs at Sandhurst and Camberley, and Brigade Major, 7th Infantry Brigade, Southern Command. In France and Italy he was distinguished, receiving the D.S.O., the M.C., and two awards of the French War Cross. He was educated at Blundell's School.

His successor at the War Office, Lieut.-Col. Lionel H. K. Finch, D.S.O., O.B.E., is being brought home on promotion from Shanghai, where he commands the 1st Battalion, The Lancashire Fusiliers. He has been in the 3rd Battalion, The Royal West Surrey Regiment, The Royal Sussex Regiment, and The Cheshire Regiment. In France he commanded a battalion, was instructor at G.H.Q. Cadet School, and Commandant of the 25th Division Infantry School. He was twice wounded and received four awards. He has had staff appointments at home and in India. He was educated at Cheltenham College and the Universities of Birmingham and London.

years old. The average age of the six is under 26 years.

COL. LINDBERGH DINES WITH THE KING

London, May 28. Colonel Lindbergh, the United States airman, and his wife were among the guests at a dinner party given by the King at St. James's Palace last night.

Lord and Lady Louis Mountbatten, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, and Mr. Duff Cooper, the War Minister, and Lady Diana Cooper were also guests.

The King has intimated that he will present new colours to 1st and 3rd Battalion Grenadier Guards, 1st and 2nd and 3rd Battalions Coldstream Guards, and 2nd Battalion Scots Guards on July 16.

The ceremony will take place in Hyde Park. The six battalions will be formed up in close column of companies on the west side, with the massed bands of the three regiments in the centre of the line. The old colours will be posted about the centre of the parade.

The King will ride in procession from Buckingham Palace, accompanied by an escort, and will be received with a royal salute, after which the line will be inspected.

After the ceremony the King will ride back to Buckingham Palace at the head of the troops, who will march in column of fours.

THE DERBY RESULT

IN COMMONS

SATISFIED AMBITION

The Aga Khan's comment on the result.

My ambition was to win the Derby three times. I have done this in the short space of 13 years.

—Is a little misleading.

Actually, all his three winners have come in seven years: Blenheim (1930), Bahram (1935), Mahmoud (1936).

What the Aga Khan meant was that it is now 13 years—or nearly 14—since he bought his first yearling in 1922.

His first expensive yearling was Mumtaz Mahal, the fastest mare since the war. He paid 9,000gns for her.

Mumtaz Mahal was the grand-dam of Mahmoud. Curiously enough, none of her offspring, including Mahmoud's dam, Mah Mahal, have been successes.

It has been left to the second generation to reassert the force of heredity.

INDIAN RULER'S VISIT

Sheikh Of Bahrien To Be Honoured

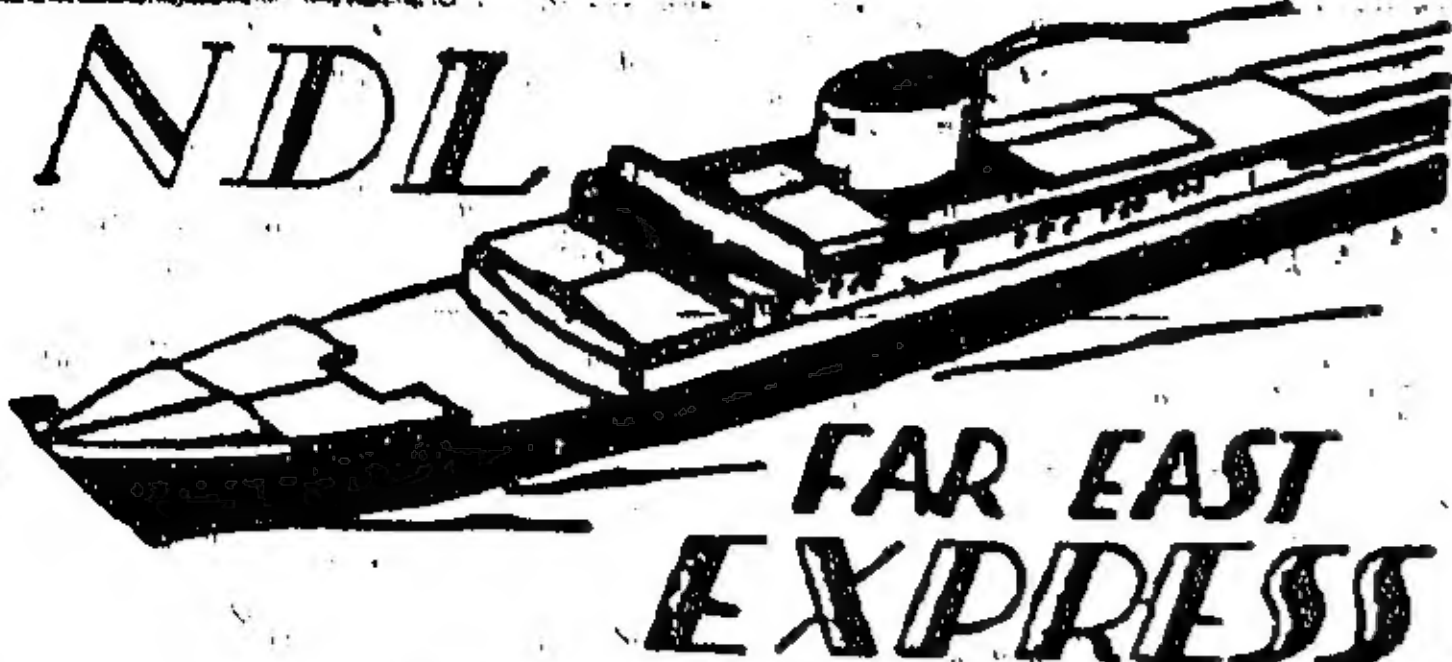

FORTNIGHT IN ENGLAND

London, June 13. The Sheikh of Bahrein, accompanied by his two sons is arriving in England to-morrow where for a fortnight he will be the guest of the British Government. During this time he will be invested by the King with insignia of Knight Commander of the Indian Empire, an honour which was conferred upon him in 1935.

The Sheikh who has been ruler of Bahrein since 1923 has visited England unofficially in 1925. He will meet the Secretary for India, Lord Zetland, at India Office on Monday, and during his stay he will pay visits to the Fleet at Portsmouth, to the Royal Military College at Sandhurst, to the Royal Air Force display at Hendon and Aldershot Tattoo. He will attend Trooping of the Colour on June 23. Arrangements have also been made for him to see over the liner Queen Mary.

THE SHARE
MARKETHarriman's Weekly
ReviewSaturday, June 13.
Messrs. G. A. Harriman and Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:

The local market during the week under review has been on the quiet side with rates in some sections showing a slight decline. More interest was, however, displayed in Philippine Gold Mining shares, the outstanding feature being the sharp rise in Antamoks and Demonstrations, the former advanced to a new high level of $4.60 and the latter touched $1.13.

Amongst investment counters Hongkong Trams opened firm at $10 but declined again at the close with scrip on offer at $9 1/4. Hongkong Electric was easier with business done at $50 1/2. Telephones (old) continued in demand at $25 after sales at this rate. Dairy Farms came to business at $19.70 and further shares could be placed at $19.50. Minor issues ruled easier. Hotels were put through down to $4.40, closing with buyers at this rate. Cements also suffered a decline having changed hands at $8.27 1/2. China Lights (old) eased off with business put through at $10.60/65. Ropes and Watsons were easier with shares offering at $4 and $3 1/2 respectively. Provident (old) were rather neglected with sellers at 95 cts. Great interest continued in Philippine Gold Mining shares with Antamoks steadily taken up from $3.50 to $4.60, a new high record. Demonstrations changed hands in large parcels at the enhanced rate of $1.04/1.13 closing firm with buyers at $1.10. United Paracales were also popular with transactions done at $1.05/1.10. Big Wedge also showed strength at the close with enquiries for shares at 38 cts. after business done at 39 cts. Sterling counters were rather quiet with Hongkong Banks changing hands at $1570 and Unions at $515. The tone of the market at the close is quietly steady locally, while mining issues remain firm and active.

Business during the week has been done at the following prices:—

H. K. Banks, $1570/1585.
Unions, $515.

SIAM'S ATTITUDE
ON TINLikely To Produce
Trade WarAmsterdam, June 13.
The position of world tin consumption is better than would have been expected in view of general conditions, the Chairman of the Billiton Company told at the annual meeting. He pointed out that the 1935 consumption of 142-350 tons equalled 79 per cent. of the 1929 record, while the 1936 estimate of 158,000 tons is 87 per cent. of it. The increase is largely due to better demand in the American automobile and tin plate industries.

Although he would regret abandonment of international co-operation owing to Siam's obstinate attitude, he declared that the Company was fully prepared for a tin war which would break out if no agreement with Siam were reached.

All claims against the vessel must be presented to the undersigned on or before the 27th inst., or they will not be recognized.

All broken, chafed, and damaged Goods are to be left in the Godowns, where they will be examined on the 17th inst. at 10 a.m. by our surveyors, Messrs. Goddard & Douglas.

In the case of dutiable cargo, consignees are requested to inform the Import & Export Office that they have such goods for examination.

No Fire Insurance has been effected. Bill of Lading will be countersigned by

Hong Kong, 13th June, 1936. [4501]BERLIN SHARE
MARKETHong Kong Daily Press Special.
Berlin, June 13.
The share market during the week-end was dull, very few buying orders coming forward so that price were on a sag.Towards the close of the week there was a slight recovery, but evidently the earnings given during the week had produced their effect and turned attention rather to the fixed securities market. Business of the latter market, though brighter, was rather restricted, gold mortgage bonds claiming the most attention. Call money was at 2 1/2 to 2 3/4.
